Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heath Happily Wed For 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heath, Bonarlaw, celebrated quietly the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day on Tuesday, August 25th. On Saturday they will celebrate again — surrounded by their ten children, their twenty grandchildren and a host of friends and neighbours.

It was on August 25th, 1909, that Anna Neal became the bride of Everett Heath at a ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Neal, in Marmora. The official celebration of their golden wedding, however, will be held this Saturday to enable all members of the family to be present, from as far distant as Utah. Grandchildren range in ages from two years to 21.

Mr. Heath is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heath, Harold. He took his bride to a farm west of Springbrook, on the 10th Line of Rawdon Township, and there they resided until this spring, when they moved to Bonarlaw. Mr. Heath is 73, his wife 70.

Despite the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Heath raised nine sons Mr. and Mrs. Heath did much of the farm work themselves after their family grew up and departed from the farm.

"They were not always home," noted Mr. Heath, who said he had given up active farming only this spring when they moved to Bonarlaw. The farm is now being operated by their son Murray, who also acts as cheesemaker at nearby Rylstone factory.

During his active years as a farmer Mr. Heath also acted as a hog drover, purchasing market hogs from district farmers for shipment to packing plants.

At Home To Friends

On Saturday they will be "at home" during the afternoon and evening to their many friends, while at 6:00 p.m. a dinner for members of the family and for invited guests will be held in St. Mark's Anglican Church, of which they have both been active members for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath have nine sons and one daughter. Their sons are Charles, of Delhi, now secretary-manager of the Ontario Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Board, but for many years secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board in Belleville; Thomas, a cheesemaker at Wilton, north of Odessa; Alvin, a farmer at Bonarlaw; Russell, of Rochester; Carl, a Marmora feed dealer; Melvin, of Orillia; James, a policeman in Marmora; Murray, a cheesemaker at Rylstone, and Cecil, better known as Bud, who is a university student at Logan, Utah. Their daughter is Helen, Mrs. B. C. Case, of Kingston.

This week-end they will be "at home" during the afternoon and evening to their many friends while at 6 p.m. an anniversary dinner for family members and invited friends will be held at St. Mark's Anglican Church at Bonarlaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath have been active in the church for many years with Mr. Heath acting as church warden for 12 years.

Hastings Co. Juniors Are Hosts To Elgin Co. Jrs.

On the week-end of August 22nd, Juniors from Hastings County found time to show their fellow-workers from Elgin County, which is in the St. Thomas area, some of the interesting points within the district. The group arrived Friday evening and left late Sunday afternoon.

Week-end accommodations were made available for the visitors by Hastings Juniors. During Saturday a conducted tour was made to several farms, industrial and mining sites and an educational institution.

In the morning the first stop was at the farm of Ross Moorcroft, Madoc R.R. 3, where a commercial swine feeding operation is being carried out. This was followed by visits to the Eldorado Cheese and Butter Factory and Marmora Mining Co. Ltd. at Marmora. Next a tour was made of Alton Hadley's apple orchards, Stirling R.R. 1. The group proceeded south along the Trent River to the site of the Bata Shoe Company. Here everyone ate their lunch and heard some interesting comments by Arthur Duncan, Public Relations, about the history of Batawa. Murney Reynolds and son, Foxboro R.R. 1, showed the group their newly built dairy barn. The Canadian Cannery, Foxboro, arranged a tour of their plant which is currently processing sweet corn. Following this, they had an interesting visit to the Ontario School for the Deaf. Finally before supper a quick stop was made at the Quinte District Cattle Breeders Association Unit, Belleville. Supper, looked forward to greatly, was served by some of the young ladies from Thurlow Junior Institute on the Homan farm lawn, Corbyville.

Sunday's activities were restricted to an open air church service and picnic dinner at O'Hara Mills, Madoc. An interesting, educational and enjoyable inter-county Junior Farmers Exchange Visit was brought to an end with a softball game and swimming at Crystal Beach, Madoc.

Eastman — Stone Nuptials, Halloway

A lovely, mid-summer, double ring wedding was solemnized on Saturday, August 15th at 2:00 p.m. in Sidney Baptist Church, Halloway, Ontario, when Grace Mary Stone, of Halloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stone, of Cannifton, was united in marriage to Willet Jay Easton, Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Easton, by the Rev. Gordon B. Woodcock, pastor of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church, Belleville, assisted by Mr. Hector Massey, of Sidney Baptist Church, beneath an arch of pink and white streamers and wedding bells. Pink and white gladioli adorned the chancel rail and pink Sweetheart roses designated the guest pews.

Mrs. Floyd MacInness rendered the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Marguerite McMullen, of Stirling, aunt of the bride, as she sang before the ceremony, "Because, and 'I Love You Truly,' during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her floor-length bridal gown of Chantilly lace over satin, featuring a molded bodice with beauteous neckline with scalloped effect and long sleeves flared over the wrists. The graceful skirt was accented at the hip-line by scalloped lace over net. She wore a rhinestone encrusted tiara and finger-length veil of tulle and lace and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses. A single strand of pearls completed her bridal costume.

She was attended by Mrs. Wendell Pond, of Halloway, as matron of honor, gowning in coral pure silk over chiffon in ballerina-length with bow and streamers, and matching jacket, picture hat, shoes and gloves. She carried a nosegay of white carnations centred with pink roses.

Assisting her was the bridegroom's mother, attired in a pale blue linen dress with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

The bride's table, with its white damask linen and three-tier wedding cake, (a gift of Mrs. Mabel Green, of Toronto), topped with a tiny bride and bridegroom and misted about the base with white tulle and red roses, brass candelabra and bridal bouquets made a delightful nuptial picture.

Mother of Claude Prior, Stirling, Laid To Rest

Mrs. Caroline Alice Jane Carson, R.R. 3, Frankford, died in the Trenton Memorial Hospital early Saturday after an illness of a week's duration. Mrs. Carson had resided in the Frankford area for the past ten years, going there from Timmins. She was born in Toronto 76 years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Theobald. Twice married, she was predeceased by both her husbands, by James Prior in 1915 and by George Carson in 1930.

Mrs. Carson leaves to mourn her death, two sons, Clarence Prior, of Kingston, and Claude Prior, Stirling; two daughters, Mrs. James (Mabel) Chandler, of Toronto, and Mrs. Wm. (Elsie) Love, R.R. 3, Frankford; one brother, William Theobald, Lindsay, and two sisters, Mrs. John Snedden, of Lindsay, and Mrs. Howard Moore, Toronto.

In religion Mrs. Carson was a Baptist.

The funeral service was held in the chapel of the Rowe Funeral Home, Frankford, on Monday, August 31st at 2:00 p.m. Rev. Bruce H. Eaton, of William Street Baptist Church, Lindsay, officiated.

The pallbearers were grandsons, Carson McKenzie, Fred Chandler, George Chandler, Richard Pennell and Roger Love.

Interment in White's Cemetery.

Centralized County Jail System To Be Investigated

Possibilities of a centralized county jail system taking in the three counties of Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington, will be further investigated by members of Hastings County Council.

A preliminary report on the possible advantages of such a system was given to members of council Friday afternoon by Reeve William Davis, who said that Reform Institution officials were wholeheartedly in favor of the idea.

He quoted the official as saying that centralization of jails was long overdue and that such a system would prove much more economical as considering the total jail population too great a staff was needed for their present operation.

Mr. Davis noted that the average cost of maintaining a prisoner in the Hastings county jail was $5.13 per day; in Prince Edward the cost was $6.81 per day and in Lennox and Addington the cost was $7.03.

The average number of jail inmates at Belleville was 27, in Prince Edward 7.3 and in Lennox and Addington 13.

Jail salaries at Belleville cost $37,386 per year; $14,600 at Picton and $18,714 at Napanee.

It was stated that the three counties of Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington were geographically grouped in such a way as to make for the most economical operation of a centralized jail. Prisoner transportation costs would be less in this grouping than with Northumberland, it was stated.

No action was taken on the matter with Warden J. N. Brown noting that additional information will be secured with further discussion to be entered into at the December session of council.

Horticultural Society Hints

No garden is complete without lilies. They add sparkle and life to a planting of shrubs or a flower border. These tall plants that come in such variety provide just the right accent for the rounded forms of most shrubs and perennials.

One of the best known and most widely recommended plantings are the snowy-white Madonna lilies combined with pink climbing roses or blue delphiniums or both. The Madonnas, which begin the lily season for most of us, are always a success. There are several new strains such as Cascade.

Lilies are easy to grow. The hocus-pocus once ascribed to lily culture is a thing of the past. Just plant them about 5 inches deep in any soil that will grow good cabbage or dahlias. Give them a well-drained location and moderate feeding and you'll be all set to enjoy the lily season.

How To Plant Lilies

1. Dig a wide and deep hole for a group of 3 or more bulbs. Work as much compost, peatmoss, leafmold or well rotted manure as possible in the bottom of the hole.

2. Set the bulb about 5 inches deep except Madonna lilies which are placed just below the surface.

3. Space vigorous varieties 1 foot apart; smaller growing varieties, 8 inches.

4. Work the organically enriched soil around the roots with your fingers, being careful not to damage or break off roots.

5. Cover bulbs with soil removed from the hole and water well to settle the soil snugly around the bulbs.

Label the bulbs, giving variety, name, date of planting, etc.

7. Mulch the soil with leaves, straw or peat moss. A berry box turned upside down over Madonnas and then mulched.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of themselves by refusing to seek further aid from government.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

For Mexico a small diglot edition of St. Luke's Gospel in Tzeltal of Bochajon (the first Scripture to be produced in that language), and Spanish, is in the press, the Bible Society of that country announced recently. The Tzeltal of Bochajon tribe numbers about 6,000 persons, of whom about 1% are literate, and 250 are Christian believers. Five years ago there were only about 5 believers. The Wycliffe translators and the National Presbyterian Church serve this tribe.

The Rev. Estrella, Secretary of the Mexico Agency, and the work of the Mexican Bible Society, were recently the subject of a three page illustrated article in "Tiempo" (a periodical similar to the American "Time"). Most commendatory statements were made concerning both the man and the work.

Recently at the local industrial fair at San Luis Potosi, Mexico, the State Governor, D. Lopez de Lara, had his picture taken shaking hands with the pastor in charge of the Bible Society booth which had been set up with the approval of the state government which sponsored the fair.

Funeral of Mrs. James Menzies Held Saturday

The funeral of Mrs. James Menzies, Mill Street, Stirling, was held on Saturday afternoon, August 29th, 1959, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, and was largely attended.

Her pastor, the Rev. K. J. Rooney, conducted the service and he also gave a short message at the Duffin Funeral Home before the cortege proceeded to the church.

Mrs. Harry Morrow presided at the console of the organ. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Richardson sang "When I've Gone the Last Mile of the Way." The congregational hymns were, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Abide with Me."

The honorary pallbearers formed a guard of honor at the funeral home, church and cemetery and were Messrs. Norman Harren, Wallace Turney, Norman Grills, Chas. Vance, Clarke Rodgers, Percy MacMullen, Frank Jeffs and Ross Hoard.

The active pallbearers were Messrs. Earl Harren, Arden Harren, Clifford Heath, Clarence McGee, Frank Harding and Clifford Findlay.

Interment in Stirling Cemetery.

Mrs. Menzies was the former Victoria Angeline Bird, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bird of "The Ridge" in Wollaston Township. She married James Menzies April 17, 1901 and in 1951 they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary while residing at Mount Pleasant in Rawdon Township.

Beautiful floral tributes were in evidence and included floral gifts from neighbors in Stirling and former neighbors at Morganston and Mount Pleasant.

Teen Tips

The National Safety Council has distributed a few rules for teen-age drivers. These could profitably be posted on the bulletin boards of all schools where students drive cars, and the number of such schools is growing rapidly across Canada. Word has come recently of an eminent institution where the campus is being turned into a parking lot!

National Safety Council rules are:

1. Be proud of your driving. Do your part to prove teenagers can be the best drivers on the road.

2. Smooth driving is the mark of the pro. Don't make jackrabbit starts, squealing turns and fast stops.
3. Be courteous at the wheel. Give the other fellow a break.
4. Don't try to get ahead of the other driver or to even the score if he's inconsiderate.
5. Speed is a killer. Adjust to the road, weather and traffic conditions.
6. Keep both hands on the wheel and your eyes on the road.
7. Obey the law. Stop at stop signs.
8. Keep your car in top condition. Give special attention to tires, lights and brakes.
9. Don't be a bumper-chaser. Keep a safe distance between your car and the car ahead.

OF MANY THINGS

(by Ambrose Illia)

I FEEL BETTER NOW

If there is any reader who thinks his world has crashed around his ears or that the future is dull, let him take comfort from this personal story.

About two years ago I thought things might be black. Here's what had happened:

I had charged, in my column, that the CBC was subsidizing advertisers to a scandalous degree. I had said they were spending too much on propaganda instead of on performers. Hang! CBC came at me in an attack so ferocious I felt sorry for myself. They bought big advertisements in the trade papers of the newspaper editors. Their ads looked pretty black to me.

They hinted that (1) I didn't know what I was talking about and didn't check my facts for accuracy; (2) That the Canadian Association of Private Broadcasters had hired me to do public relations and that my charges were probably due to this connection. This was hard to answer, because the CBC was able to congratulate me on the fact that a trade paper has just carried a news story to the effect that I was being hired to make a trip to member stations of the CAB as part of their public relations plan. The fact was that the private broadcasters did plan to hire me to give a series of lectures to the staffs at private stations, and it had nothing whatever to do with the controversy going on between public and private broadcasters. Turned out I was too busy to take the job, and I haven't had time to do it to this day, but it appeared to me that CBC had scored and that I would lose the confidence of editors everywhere.

Editors, thank God, are a tough-minded breed. They wanted facts instead of innuendo. And CBC was long on innuendo but mighty reluctant to give out with facts. Now a parliamentary inquiry committee has literally forced the facts out of CBC and editors know I was speaking the bitter truth.

Today CBC's Report for 1958-59 landed on my desk — and here we go again! I have written to CBC's costly Press & Information Service with the complaints I intend to make unless they can show me I am wrong. I'll let you readers know what comes of the correspondence.

THE FOOD BASKET

APPLES HARMONIZE WITH JAM

Whoever first discovered that pork and apples were "made for each other" certainly deserves a medal. Apples harmonize just as well with the smoked pork cuts, as they do with the fresh. Try these suggestions from the Consumer Section, for serving ham and apples together.

1. Cover a ham steak (about 1" thick) with thin slices of apples; sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake the Apple-smothered Ham in a moderately slow oven, 325 degs. F., for 50 to 55 minutes.

2. Using a heavy frying pan, glaze slices of cooked turnip and wedges of uncooked apples together in butter and brown sugar. Use equal quantities of butter and brown sugar (e.g. 1 cup of each will be sufficient for glazing six 3" x 1" slices of turnip and 2 medium apples). Serve with cold or hot ham.

3. Baste baked ham with apple juice and glaze with apple jelly.

4. Simmer apple rings in honey until tender. Serve with ham.

5. Toss diced, cooked ham with chopped apple, sliced celery and salad dressing to make a fine salad.

6. Make Cinnamon Apple Wedges to serve with ham:

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 cup red cinnamon candies (about 2 oz.)
1/2 to 1 teaspoon red food colouring (optional)
2 pounds firm apples, peeled and cut in wedges

Combine first 5 ingredients, heat to a boil and simmer 5 minutes. Cook apple wedges a few at a time (only 1 layer deep in pan), until barely tender — 4 to 8 minutes, depending on the variety of apples and size of wedges.

Scouts and Girl Guides Are Miracle Workers

Canada's 256,000 Boy Scouts are raising $750,000 to build a new national Scout headquarters in Ottawa. And Canada's 177,000 Girl Guides are planting 600,000 yellow tulips all across the country to celebrate their 50th anniversary next year. Tom Alderman reports in the current Liberty magazine.

These are the latest deeds of the Canadian Scouts and Guides, who despite jeers, contribute $5,000,000 to the Canadian economy each year, and "work miracles."

Probably the most famous Canadian Scouts were Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, who first worked together as Boy Scouts to raise $40 at a benefit show in Toronto, Liberty notes.

"Activities of Scouts and Guides range from donating blood and collecting pollen for hay fever tests, to planting trees and collecting Christmas toys for needy children," Alderman writes. The toy idea started 35 years ago in Calgary, and has since spread to all parts of the world.

Good deed for the day of a Saskatchewan troop recently, was to finish digging the basement under the wartime home of a widowed mother. The widow had been digging the basement by hand. The Scouts completed the job in one day.

Heroic escapades have won galantry awards for 2,700 Canadian Boy Scouts since they were founded 52 years ago. In New Brunswick, an RCMP sergeant took time to show a Cub pack the fundamentals of water rescue. Two weeks later, three of the Cubs saved the sergeant's own daughter from drowning.

During the Winnipeg flood and Hurricane Hazel in Ontario, Scouts and Guides plugged dykes, rescued people, searched for bodies, cleaned debris, and collected food and clothing. One Toronto policeman said, "Those kids did everything except stop the rain." But, four Canadian Scouts started the biggest downpour in 72 years at a scout jamboree in Melbourne, Australia recently. The boys were practicing their Indian rain-making dance when the sky clouded up. It rained for five days.

What Others Say 1

WRONG MOTIVES BRING WRONG RESULTS

(The Rural Scene)

When men act from wrong motives they are more than likely to get wrong results.

There is no denying the fact that the motive behind the agitation for the farm marketing legislation we have today is selfishness, the selfish desire to extract more than natural prices from the consuming public for farm products.

Natural prices are the prices for which goods will sell when both buyers and sellers are free to buy or to sell or to do neither as suits their own interests. The purpose of all these marketing schemes is to deprive the consuming public of the freedom of choice that is their right, and which they naturally enjoy in a free market.

But in order to deprive the consumers of this right the Legislature deemed it necessary to deprive the producers themselves of their right to choose when, where, to whom and at what prices to sell their products. The teeth in the Act were set to bite the producers, for it is the producer who is punished when the law is violated.

When this legislation was being enacted little thought was given to the equity or the inequity of it; the chief concern was to make it effective.

That was a grave mistake, for no legislation can be of real benefit to the country if it is based on injustice. Now the farmers are discovering that they are the ones who are being controlled by it and who have to submit to it.

Not every member of the Legislature can be expected to foresee the ultimate effect of every proposed act that comes up for his consideration. But every man can distinguish right from wrong; and if the members of the Legislature will exercise that judgment and give their support to what they know to be right and just, they will not go far wrong in their legislation.

The motive behind the demand for our present farm marketing legislation was not such as to commend it to a legislature that was intent on being just and fair. That in itself should have been enough to warn the Government against it.

DOES THE MOON AFFECT OUR WEATHER?

(By W. VanDusen)

This question is as old as the hills but still puzzles many people.

Does the moon affect, influence, modify, change or determine our weather? In other words, has the moon anything to do with our weather?

To be sure the moon and sun do have a pull on our earth causing oceanic tides, several feet high, but that is a matter of universal gravitation.

We speak of the moon in poetic ways as "Fair Moonlight," "Moonlight and Roses," and "Moonbeams Dancing on the Bosom of the Deep" and so on; but has her ladyship anything to do with our weather?

Some people still believe she has, just as some think the earth is flat.

Scientists however, regard all these theories about "quarters" of the moon as superstitions; the moon having as much to do with it as the "falling of the Walls of Jericho."

The Chambers Encyc. says: "Many such superstitions prevail till recent times, and among these must be ranked the old and widespread belief that the changes of the moon influence the weather."

Weather depends on atmospheric conditions, and the science that explains such, and other natural phenomena is meteorology. It is noted that in all weather probabilities, no mention is made of the moon.

To be sure weather problems are as complicated as a game of chess, but some wild and fancy theories about the moon, would make Galileo smile.

We have just received a bulletin, also letter from the Director of Meteorological Survey Department, Toronto, and he says:

"There have been many interesting speculations as to the effect of the moon on weather, and while the moon does cause a very slight atmospheric tide, similar to the tides in the ocean, there is no evidence that there is any direct relationship between the phases of the moon and the weather."

The bulletin above mentioned is edited by the eminent Rube Hornstein, Meteorologist of Halifax.

The bulletin is free and contains much that is humorous as well as scientific.

How To Get The Best Out of Your Glads

Shifting glads from garden to vase may seem like a very trivial task. But a little care, even in such a simple routine as this, will give you longer lasting blooms.

"Cut your glads in the early morning or evening," advises Horticulturist J. C. Taylor of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. "However, they may be cut at any time during the day provided they are placed in water and kept in a cool place for some time."

For home use, cut off the spike when one or two blooms are open. For exhibition, wait until two or three blooms are open. Then cut and place in a cool dark cellar for a few days. Don't remove all the leaves from the plant when cutting — leave four or five. They're needed to produce food for the bulb-like corms.

Unless you want to produce seed, cut and remove spikes that have all the blooms open. Dead blooms are unsightly and botrytis disease develops on them rapidly. If seed is formed when it is not wanted, nutrients which would otherwise be returned to the corm are wasted.

Here's a good cutting method: Slide the back of the knife down the stem as far as possible.

Tilt the blade toward the stem and cut upwards.

Place one foot at the base of the plant to prevent pulling it up by the roots.

Another method: Insert a sharp-pointed knife into the stem at the desired height and pierce through the stem. Then bend the spike back and forth. It will snap at the point where it was pierced. The stem may then be pulled easily, leaving five or more leaves on the plant. This method won't work too well if the plants are wilted.

Place spikes in water right after they are cut. If the flowers are to remain fresh for a long time, change the water daily and cut off a small portion of the stem with each change.

Canada's population includes people of about 45 different racial origins, and including the many language groups into which the Eskimo and Indian population is divided, there are about 75 different languages spoken in Canada.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

FOR BETTER LAWNS SEED IN THE FALL

It's a good idea to follow nature's plan and sow your lawn in the late summer or early fall, according to horticulturists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Why? Well, during this period heat is not so intense and there are fewer weeds. What's more, the cooler weather encourages good rooting. Sow in the early fall so that the grass is well established before winter sets in. Well rooted plants will suffer less from drought and heat next summer.

Start your final seedbed preparation about ten days before the chosen sowing date. Stir the soil occasionally to destroy the weeds that have started. Roll and rake the area to produce a fine, level seedbed. On large areas, try dragging a plank back and forth to produce the same level effect. At seeding time, most of the soil should be as fine as sifted ashes.

Don't skimp on seed. A seeding rate of 3 to 5 pounds per 1,000 square feet is best when Kentucky Bluegrass forms a high percentage of the mixture. Sow half the seed over the entire area. Then seed the rest at right angles to the first. To insure an even job, it is best to sow when there is little wind.

After seeding, rake the soil lightly to cover the seed to a depth of $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ inch. Rake in one direction, to prevent collection of the seed in ridges. A light covering of screened topsoil may be applied as an alternative.

Rolling to firm the soil around the seed will encourage uniform germination. Be sure that the roller is dry, or else some seed may be picked up and wasted. Roll again after the grass germinates and after the first cutting.

Watering? Use a fine spray. Be careful not to wash away seed. Keep the area uniformly moist, but not saturated.

KEEP COWS OFF ALFALFA IN SEPTEMBER

So says Dr. Bill Tossell, forage researcher at the O.A.C. "The alfalfa roots are storing food during September. This food comes from the leaves and is used to make buds for next year's growth."

"In Western, Central and most of Eastern Ontario, avoid grazing in September. In South-Western Ontario, where the growing season is longer, avoid grazing from the middle of September until the middle of October," he adds.

Why is September so critical? Apparently day length holds the answer.

"In June and July, day length favors reproductive (flowering) growth," says Tossell. "The shorter day length in September favors vegetative (leaf and root) growth. The buds develop on the crown right at the base of the stems. They'll start any time from the first of September till just about freeze-up time."

"The idea of avoiding September grazing is to let top growth develop to the point where there's enough leaf area to manufacture more food than is needed for that top growth. That extra food is moved down into the roots and stored. Once the food is in the roots it will develop buds through September and October," he adds.

"When you have the food necessary for buds, overwintering, and rapid growth in the spring, you can take off the food producing factory at the top and turn it into milk or beef," says the Ontario Department of Agriculture researcher.

"The buds that are laid down early in the fall will start growth next spring," he explains. "The immature buds are reserve buds, and many of them will replace stems lost to cutting. If you haven't got a good number of fairly well developed crown buds, then you can be sure the number of stems per plant will be low next year. And if you cut or pasture low right through next year, you won't get the growth if you haven't got the store of buds."

Another interesting point: To boost top growth and bud development in September, Tossell suggests fertilizing alfalfa in August.

LEAFY SPURGE

Leafy Spurge, sometimes called Faltours Grass or Betcher Weed, is so serious in Ontario that it is listed among the six weeds classed as Prohibited Noxious in the Canada Seeds Act. This classification means that not one Leafy Spurge seed may be present in any seed offered for sale in Canada, according to the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Some infestations of Leafy Spurge have been so persistent, and such a serious threat to farming, that local municipalities have considered taking over and operating farms infested with it.

Leafy Spurge is a long-lived, deep-rooted perennial which grows from seed and underground root stalks. The root system penetrates the soil to a depth of 2 feet or more. The stems grow from 1 to 3 feet high and excrete a thick, milky sap when broken. The flowers, which bloom from June to September, are greenish-yellow.

The deep root system makes Leafy Spurge very hard to kill, either by cultivation or chemicals. Small patches should be treated with chemicals because cultivation may drag roots to other parts of the field, thus spreading the infestation, since a half-inch section of root is capable of producing a new plant. Patches may be treated with soil sterilants such as D. B. Granular, Monuron, or mixtures of Sodium Chlorate, applied according to manufacturer's directions.

Large infestations are costly to eradicate with chemicals but may be kept under control with a 50:50 mixture of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T (Brushkill) at a rate of 24 ounces of acid in 30 gallons of water per acre. Since this treatment will kill all crop plants except grasses, it should be used only in grass fields. Two treatments should be made in the first season, one in mid-June and another in late August.

Eradication of large infestations by cultivation usually requires continuous field operations for two seasons. Any patches which still survive should then be treated with chemicals as outlined.

COW SENSE PAYS PROFITS

"Cow physiology is easy and probably pays off in more milk plus extra dollars in your pocket," says livestock specialists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Most dairy men know that milk letdown is a normal process (it's stimulated by the hormone oxytocin) but when a cow is excited, nervous, or suffering pain, the hormone adrenalin is secreted. This hormone prevents the letdown hormone from acting. When this happens, milk is left in the udder, and mastitis and a gradual slowdown in total production may result. Here are some tips on how to get more co-operation from your cow, plus milk you may never have missed.

Milk at regular intervals. Milking late may produce more milk, but the letdown response may be gone before you get all the milk.

Place easily stimulated cows in the first stanchions and milk these first. Cows which milk out slowly should be placed at the end of the line.

Teach cows to respond to milking stimulus. The best way is a vigorous massage of udder and teats with a warm damp cloth.

Avoid frightening your cows just before milking. Abnormal noises, strangers, or barking dogs may slow or stop the action of the letdown hormone.

Keep your temper under control. Pain caused by kicking or beating can cost you 5 to 15 pounds of milk. Painful milking caused by sore teats also cuts down production.

Make sure the vacuum is held constantly at the recommended level; too high a level can lead to mastitis, and a varying level might cause nervousness.

Remember that cow psychology can be used to relax your cow, and a relaxed cow will cost you less and make you more.

PREMIUMS TO BE LIMITED TO PERFORMANCE TESTED BULLS

Ontario cattle breeders, particularly in the beef field, are learning that appearance isn't everything when economical gains are the goal. That has been amply demonstrated under Ontario's performance testing programme which has been conducted during the past nine years.

"The results obtained clearly show that it is difficult to appraise a beef bull on the basis of appearance alone," said Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture. "Some bulls that are pleasing to the eye do not possess the ability to make rapid and economical gains, characteristics that are of vital importance to the farmer who is raising commercial beef cattle. On the other hand the tests reveal that it is possible to produce bulls that are highly satisfactory from the standpoint of type and performance."

As a result of the findings the minister stated that some changes would be made in the bull premium policy by limiting the payment of premiums to purchasers of performance tested bulls.

As of January 1st, 1960, only purchasers of bulls that meet the standard for the designation of "performance tested" will be eligible for premium. In view of the fact that several local breeders' clubs have made plans for fall sales in anticipation of the present policy being continued it was decided that the new policy would not come into effect until the beginning of next year.

Bulls must be purchased in sales sponsored by breeders, breeders' clubs or the Ontario Beef Cattle Improvement Association, except in the case of Northern Ontario where the policy will apply on private sales, provided both parties to the transaction reside in that section of the province.

To qualify for the designation "performance tested" a bull must gain at least 2.30 pounds per day on test, not less than 2.15 pounds per day between birth and the end of the test period, and be graded "breeder" or "commercial." Thus both performance and type are considered in determining the bulls which qualify for this classification.

Ontario's testing programme provides for both station and home tests. Station testing facilities will be increased by the establishment of a new station at the Western Ontario Experimental Farm, Ridgetown. This will provide Ontario with three stations, the other two being located at the O.A.C., Guelph and the Kemptville Agricultural School. Even with these stations operating to capacity, breeders will be obliged to test the majority of their bulls at home, a situation which reflects the interest being shown in performance testing by the beef breeders of the province.

Weed Control

Recent tests of new weed control compounds show they can be used on forage crops without damage to the legumes.

James R. Hay of Plant Research Institute, Ottawa, says that when the weeds were not being satisfactorily handled by low rates of sodium and Amine salts of 2,4-D or MCP it was not safe to increase the application for fear of injuring the seedling legumes.

Now, however, it is found that two newer chemicals, 2,4-DH and MCPB, can safely be applied at rates up to 24 ounces per acre without damage to legumes. Rates of 16 to 20 ounces per acre when weeds are in the early seedling stage have proved effective. The compounds should be used early in the season and in not less than 20 gallons of water to the acre.

Winter Barley Production

Hudson is the recommended winter barley variety for Ontario at present, says G. H. Clark, cerealist at the Canada Department of Agriculture Research Station at Harrow.

Hudson is a strong strawed, mildew resistant, rough awned, six-rowed barley that was developed at Cornell University and licensed for sale in Canada in 1955. It is superior to the other winter barley varieties in winter hardiness, yield and, with the exception of Wong, in resistance to lodging.

Winter barley should not be sown on poor or wet land for it does not do well under those conditions. Like wheat, it responds well to soluble phosphates, but care must be taken in adding nitrogen fertilizer because a large amount is likely to cause lodging.

Since barley is a little less winter hardy than wheat, it should be planted about a week earlier so it will become well established before winter. As barley is seldom attacked by the Hessian Fly there is no great risk in planting it before the fry-free date.

Approximate planting periods for the different zones in Ontario are: Zone 1, September 15th to 25th; Zone 2, September 10th to 20th; Zone 3, September 1st to 10th.

Late seedlings should be avoided for they are likely to suffer winter injury. Even early seedlings may suffer winter killings some years.

The Good Driver

A gun dog is in the business of killing. A driver's paramount concern should always be the avoidance of injury. Yet a good gun dog and a good driver have at least one thing in common. They will always "honour a point."

When working in the field, a good dog not only checks for game, he keeps his eye on his kennel mate. If the first dog "sets" to point at a quarry, the second retriever instantly freezes also, pointing in the same direction, even though he cannot see the bird.

A good driver follows the same principle. If another car brakes without apparent cause, or changes lanes unexpectedly, or fails to move off when the way seems clear . . . he is immediately on the alert to find the reason. He slows down, or even stops, "honouring the point" of the other driver though he cannot see the cause of the "set."

A common example of this pointed out by the Ontario Safety League occurs at a busy intersection. Help up by the red light at the cross walk are two lanes of traffic, headed by a car on the curb side and a truck in the passing lane. As the light turns green the car roars off with a jerk, but the truck does not move. There is nothing in sight to hold up the following car in the curb lane, but the good driver there does not take off at normal speed. He edges up to see what is holding up the truck driver — and often finds it is an anxious pedestrian half way across the road, who could be turned into a crumpled heap by a moment of impatience.

Always use your head when you are driving. And your heart. Keep the possible needs of other road users in mind and donate a few seconds of driving time, whenever an uncertainty arises, to be used for their additional protection and comfort. Yours too.

Why Suffering

We've often heard it asked: "Why must good people suffer?"

A Wichita, Kansas clergyman observes in Reader's Digest that the undeserved agonies of the good may be God's way of improving the world.

In an article written for the Laymen's Movement for a Christian World, Dr. Robert W. Youngs says:

"If no one but wicked people suffered, we would harden our hearts and say 'They deserved it,' but when saints suffer, we cry, 'This must not be.' Nothing moves us more to contribute generously to the cure of cancer than what cancer does to the noblest people."

"The suffering of good people has ever been a prime factor in the evolution of the world. It takes millions crippled with arthritis, confined with tuberculosis or paralyzed with palsy before we really attack these enemies of life."

Dr. Youngs points out that the Scriptures repeatedly reveal that good people suffer because it is one of God's best ways to bring out the best in life. He says:

"Such godlike qualities as love, patience, pity and compassion are called forth in us by suffering. Without

By-Law To Raise $300,000 For High School Given First Two Readings

Sewerage Project Is Two-Thirds Completed — Ask Extension Development Rd.

By-law No. 596, to issue debentures for three hundred thousand dollars for the proposed addition and renovation of the Stirling-Rawdon District High School, was given the first and second readings with Councillor R. K. West in the chair, at the regular monthly meeting of the Village Council on Tuesday night. Reeve K. Ray presided and Councillors W. J. Morton, C. Bateman, R. K. West and H. R. Tompkins were in attendance.

Communications were tabled from the Workmen's Compensation Board; Ontario Municipal Board, re debenture by-law; Ontario Water Resources Commission, re contract with Temiskaming Construction; Unemployment Insurance Commission; White and White; and Mrs. Wm. Vardy, re cutting weeds.

Request For Water
Wesley Lake, a taxpayer of the Village, but who resides outside the Western limits of the Village, made a request that the Village water line be extended to the Corporation limits to permit him to obtain water for his farm. It was pointed out that there had been numerous requests from parties just outside the Village limits for water in the past, and no action had been taken. However, Reeve Ray stated he would discuss the matter with the Public Utilities Commission.

Council to Interview Crown
Police Chief Sutherland presented his report and a lengthy discussion ensued on the cost of transportation of prisoners to and from court and the returns received by the Village from fines levied in Magistrate's Court for infringement of the laws within the municipality. Crown Attorney Pringle, when contacted by phone, informed Reeve Ray that the municipality was liable for transportation costs and stated he would be glad to meet Council for a discussion of the various matters concerning the administration of Justice.

Members of Council were unanimous in having Reeve Ray make an appointment with the Crown Attorney to discuss the disposition of a charge against a local resident, as well as the financial returns from fines, and failing a suitable explanation from the Crown, to seek an interview with the Attorney General of Ontario.

The Police Report was received on motion of Councillors Tompkins and Morton.

Engineer's Report
M. Gibson, resident engineer on the sewerage project, stated there were approximately 5,000 ft. of sewerage tile yet to be laid, as of Monday. Most of the side streets were done and there remained Front, Emily, Mill and North Streets. It was estimated that the job was two-thirds done, stated Mr. Gibson.

On motion, the Clerk was instructed to make a request to E. Sandercock, M.P.P., that the Development Road from West Huntingdon via the Ridge Road, be continued to Highway No. 14 and that a copy of the letter be forwarded the County Road Committee.

Sidewalks Requested

Councillor Wm. Morton introduced the matter of having a sidewalk on the north side of North Street for the use of residents of the seventeen war-time houses. This was a particularly dangerous section of Highway No. 14 for pedestrians, especially school children, and something should be done, stated Councillor Morton. It was agreed by Councillors that most sidewalks in the Village were in need of renewal, but it was deemed advisable to wait until the construction of the sewerage system was complete. Then the whole situation could be explored and a plan worked out to do a portion each year. It was also pointed out that in case of new construction, where there had never been a walk, forty per cent was chargeable to the property owners concerned, under the local improvement by-law.

Introduces Guest Speaker

Mrs. Ralph Utman introduced Mrs. Maurice Bell, Stirling, who gave a very interesting and educational account of their recent trip to Newfoundland.

The speaker gave information re planning a trip, necessities to carry along and other items of special interest. She then took the group on an imaginary trip through Quebec, the Gaspé Peninsula, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and then Newfoundland, with its rocks, fishing coves, and the pulp and paper mill on Bell Island. They travelled home via the Trans-Canadian Highway and the beautiful scenery was hard to describe. Mrs. Bell also outlined several interesting events of their trip.

Mrs. Roy Bush voiced grateful thanks for the address and made the presentation of a small gift on behalf of River Valley W.I.

Light refreshments were served in the school kitchen under the convership of Mrs. Gerald Brooks and her group. The long tables were covered with white cloths and bowls of asters. Silver tea services and the new cups and saucers were used. Mrs. E. Morrow, Wooler, Mrs. Thos. Kelly, Chapman's, and Mrs. Ken Hagerman, Seymour East, voiced thanks for hospitality.

Newfoundland Subject of Address — Mrs. John Kane Hostess for the Meeting

On Tuesday afternoon, September 8th, the Woman's Association of St. Paul's United Church held their meeting in the church parlours, with Mrs. John Kane as hostess.

Mrs. Ashley Brooks opened the meeting with the use of the W.A. theme hymn. All repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Ted Reynolds then took charge of the meeting and conducted the devotional. The theme for the day was "Love Your Enemies". The hymn, "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven", was sung. Mrs. J. B. Thompson read the Scripture from St. Matthew 5, reading from verse 42-47.

The meditation was based on the Scripture and especially on the word "Love". Mrs. Christie read this and led in prayer. Mrs. Harry Philp and Mrs. Cecil Macklin sang the lovely hymn, "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling", with Mrs. H. West as pianist. Mrs. Ted Reynolds introduced the guest speaker for the day, Mrs. Maurice Bell. She gave a very interesting and informative talk on our tenth and newest province, Newfoundland. Mrs. Cecil Macklin thanked her. The hymn "Lord in the Strength of Grace", followed by a prayer, closed this part of the meeting.

Mrs. A. Brooks resumed the chair to conduct the business. It was decided to hold a turkey dinner. An invitation was accepted from Springbrook W.A. to attend their Tea and Bazaar. The repeating of the W.A. benediction closed the meeting.

Mrs. T. Reynolds and her group served a tasty lunch and were thanked for their interesting meeting by Mrs. H. Bird.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Mumby, R.R. 1, Harold, Ontario, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Ruth Margaret, to Mr. Ronald Raeburn Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Johnston, Eldorado, Ontario. Marriage to take place Monday, October 12th, 1959, in St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, Ontario, at 12 o'clock.

Local and Personal

Mr. Wm. Kranz left on Monday for his home in Pembroke, after spending some time with his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vardy.

Land Judging Competition Success

On Thursday, September 3, 1959, at the farm of Frank Jeffs, Stirling, R.R. 3, a very successful Land Judging Competition took place. This was something new in the Agricultural education field for juniors. Thirty-five from the district competed.

Instruction was given during the forenoon. Following lunch in the Stirling Community Hall the group proceeded to Mr. Jeffs' farm. The structure and texture of soil had to be considered on four different farm locations. An explanation of what crops were the best adapted was also required.

The Moira River Conservation Authority awarded two lovely silver trays to the high junior and high senior. The junior winner was Allan Johnston, Harold R.R. 1, and the senior winner was Cyril Shaw, Eldorado. Mr. Ken Ray, Stirling Machine Shop Dealer, gave a large pail of grease to be presented to the second place individual. The winner was Joe Hagerman, Harold R.R. 1.

Sidney MacDonald and Clinton Nesbitt, local Agricultural Representatives, were in charge.

- COMING EVENTS -

90th ANNIVERSARY SERVICES OF Wellman's Church will be held on Sunday, September 13th at 11.00 a.m. and 8.00 p.m. Guest preacher, Rev. Douglas Louie, B.A., of Tweed, Ont.

River Valley W.M.S. Meeting

A large number of members, children and visitors met at the home of Mrs. John Kane to hold the August meeting of the R.V.W.M.S. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gerald Brooks took charge of the meeting, opening with the hymn, "Can a Little Child Like Me". The usual business was transacted. Twenty-five home calls and five hospital calls were reported.

The hostess next month is to be Mrs. Roy Irvin and the lunch committee, Miss Flossie Rosebush and Mrs. Ralph Utman.

The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Packman.

The Mission Band was in charge of the programme so the meeting was turned over to Miss Cheryl Utman. The opening hymn "All People That on Earth Do Dwell" was sung. Mrs. Ernest Carr read the Scripture, Psalm 150. Miss Alice deBruyn read the story of the Scripture. Miss Marguerite deBruyn led in prayer, giving reasons why one should pray and all responded with "We Praise Thee, O God". Everyone joined in singing the hymn, "Birds Are Singing". Roll Call was answered with a name from the Bible beginning with the last letter of the name given by the person before.

Miss Jane Bush favoured with a piano solo. Master Bruce Philp recited "Once There Was a Snowman". Miss Cheryl Utman gave a piano solo. Miss Joyce Carr recited, "Hippity Hop to the Barber Shop". Miss Alice deBruyn conducted a contest of jumbled names of countries of the world. Mrs. Glenn Brooks, in a very interesting manner, told the children the story of "Donnie's Sins". Mrs. Brooks also had an interesting contest.

The meeting was closed by all repeating the Mission Band Purpose.

All enjoyed a delicious lunch and a social chat.

For one who never knows what she wants, today's woman is quite apt at getting it.

Springbrook W.A.

The September meeting of the Woman's Association of Springbrook United Church was held in the church basement on Thursday afternoon with an attendance of 29 members and 3 visitors. The hostess was Mrs. Percy Mumby.

With the vice-president, Mrs. Gordon Webb, in charge, the meeting was opened with the W.A. motto, theme and prayer. The Devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Clayton Burditt, using as her theme "Love Your Enemies". Psalm 145 was read in unison. The Scripture, read by Mrs. C. Gordanier, was taken from Matthew 5: 43-48, followed by the Lesson thoughts, read by Mrs. Burditt. A prayer for the mission, Miss Gould, of Formosa, was given by Mrs. Beare. The worship period closed with a hymn and a prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Roll call, "a donation for the layette bale" was responded to well. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Webb conveyed words of appreciation from Mrs. Wellington Cooper to the W.A. for flowers she had received while a patient in Belleville Hospital.

The members reported 86 cards sent and 43 calls made. The correspondence was read, consisting of replies re bazaar, a Thank You, and a letter from Overseas Relief, regarding the bale received recently. Mrs. Reg. McKeown gave the report of the August Visiting Volunteers, stating that 13 calls had been made. Mrs. Fred McKeown told of 2 cards sent out by the fruit and flowers committee. The prepared report of the bazaar committee meeting was read by the Secretary.

The new business consisted of the approval granted the parsonage committee to purchase a new electric stove and a combination door for the parsonage; also a cash donation to be sent for Overseas Relief.

The Visiting Volunteer for September will be Mrs. Murney Mason, who will invite some one to go along with her. Mrs. Charlie Gordanier stated that a quilt had been given to Mr. and Mrs. Lake, who lost their home recently by fire. This concluded the business portion of the meeting, and a most interesting topic entitled "Friendship" was given by Mrs. Ira Switzer.

Readings were given by Mrs. Edward Lateman and Mrs. Sanford Melklejohn. Mrs. Elias Spry voiced her remarks at being able to be present at the meeting. Mrs. Edgar Graham, of Oshawa, then favoured with two accordion solos which were much enjoyed by all. The meeting closed with all repeating the W.A. Benediction. Collection was $4.42.

Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants. The hostesses for the October meeting are Mrs. Charlie Gordanier and Mrs. Wallace McInroy.

THE FOOD BASKET

CORN-ON-THE-COB

Dewy-fresh corn-on-the-cob, with its sweet, milk-white juiciness is one of the most typical of Canadian fall foods. In these days of modern marketing, every attempt is made to rush this vegetable fresh and cool from the field into your shopping basket — and after that it's up to you!

Corn-on-the-cob should be kept cool until it reaches the kettle on your stove, for the sugar-sweetness turns to starch more quickly when held at high temperatures than at low. Husks and tassels should be removed at cooking time.

As with most fresh vegetables, corn does not require long cooking since this toughens the kernels and reduces their sweetness and juiciness. 8 to 10 minutes boiling in salted water to cover should be long enough to cook the corn to just the right stage of tenderness. When the corn is cooked, the "milk" is set and the kernels will slip from the hull when pricked with a fork. If cobs of corn are cut in 4 or 5 pieces, 3 to 4 minutes cooking time will be sufficient.

Freeze Corn

For Winter

Sometimes frozen corn-on-the-cob has a hay-like, off flavour. This may be due to insufficient blanching and perhaps to over-maturity of the corn itself.

These, then, are the most important factors to heed when freezing corn at home. Select freshly picked cobs with rounded kernels, milky juice and sweet flavour, being sure to avoid those with either immature or too firm (overmature) kernels.

Remove the husks and silk, wash in cool water and blanch (dip in boiling water): 11 minutes for large cobs; 9 minutes for medium cobs; 7 minutes for small cobs. Chill quickly in ice water, drain thoroughly and wrap in freezer foil or pack into freezer bags, sealing securely. Freeze.

Corn-on-the-cob takes up more freezer space than kernel corn so you may prefer to freeze corn this way. Blanch cobs only 3 minutes and chill. Using a sharp knife, cut kernels off cob, making sure not to cut so deeply that the hulls come off too. Pack into freezer containers and freeze.

A $400. Nickel

Some items culled from the new and enlarged edition of a pocket encyclopedia that contains more than 25,000 items of fact about Canada:

One of the small Canadian five-cent pieces is valued by collectors at up to $400 — the small silver coin dated 1921, the year the change was made to the larger nickel coin.

Every year in Canada, about 1,060 boys are born for every 1,000 girls — apparently nature's way of compensating for a slightly higher male infant mortality.

Natural gas, one of Canada's fastest-growing industries, increased its number of customers during 1958 from 645,646 to 1,032,930.

These are some of the items contained in the 15th annual edition of Quick Canadian Facts, the 35-cent pocket annual of facts about Canada released by its publishers at 810 Lumsden Building, Toronto.

Among the thousands of other facts about Canada noted in the new book are:

Of the 24 national elections held since 1867 the Conservatives and Liberals have each won 12, but nine Conservative leaders have held the office of Prime Minister compared to only four Liberals.

In the years 1929-1958 football's Grey Cup was won ten times by Toronto teams, Hamilton five, Winnipeg four, Edmonton and Montreal three, Sarnia and Ottawa twice, and Calgary once.

In the current year family allowance and the universal old age pension will cost more than $1 billion, or about one dollar in every six collected in federal taxes.

In 1958 Canada suffered a deficit in international trade of $326 million, and the cumulative trade deficit for the three years 1956-1958 exceeded $2 billion.

More than one-third of all fires in Canada are caused by smokers' carelessness; in the fuel classification electricity is the principal fire cause, oil-fired equipment ranks second, solid fuel (coal, wood, coke) equipment is third and gas-fired equipment is fourth.

The world-wide influenza epidemic of 1918 killed more than 20 million; between 20,000 and 45,000 Canadians died in the epidemic.

The new edition of Quick Canadian Facts, which carries up-to-date information on all significant aspects of Canadian life, was released recently to newsstands and book stores.

Keep Flowers Picked

The appearance of the garden will be much improved if fading flower heads are kept picked. Zinnias, Marigolds, Petunias, Phlox and other annuals and perennials look bedraggled and unkempt and blooms become smaller if the spent flowers remain.

Think About House Plants

The winter window gardens, take cuttings from geraniums, English ivy, petunia, coleus etc. Make pinch cuttings, dip in a root promoting hormone and plant in a mixture of half sand and half peat moss or sand in vermiculite. Cuttings should be kept evenly moist, but not too wet or they will rot.

Mulching

Most plants respond well to mulching. Any type of mulch is satisfactory, but my favourite is sawdust or shavings. Since sawdust contains no nitrogen, it must be supplied or the bacteria will take up nitrogen from the soil and rob the plants of food. I have found that one small handful of ammonium nitrate per bushel of sawdust is sufficient. One of the best things about such a mulch is that it keeps the weeds down.

Sterilizing Soil for House Plants

There are several methods used. When sterilizing with heat you should bring the centre of a pan of soil to 185 degrees or 190-degrees F for a half-hour. Too hot "cooking" will do more harm than good. Try a really slow oven and use a thermometer to check. Another way is to pour boiling water into a pan of soil. This is excellent for small lots and far less odorous.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

DON'T FENCE ME IN!

If laying hens had a theme song these days it would be, "Don't Fence Me In," and they could quote agricultural experts to prove the validity of their request.

It seems that in a carefully conducted test, hens allowed to run free on the range laid more eggs than their fenced-in sisters; and they were healthier and heavier too.

This might surprise some folk, but it doesn't surprise me. I know that artificially stocked lakes don't give you the fighting fish you can hook in waters where the fingerlings have been on their own from the start.

There is something about freedom of action which inspires stamina, productivity, and an assortment of other virtues.

Soldiers of the free world have shown remarkable ability to outmanoeuvre soldiers from more regimented lands. Workers in free countries have always been able to out-produce slave labor. Farmers in a competitive economy beat the trousers off the workers in so-called collective farms or communes. Freedom to stand on your own two feet, to lose or gain, is worth something.

Freedom would not be in the danger it is today if everybody knew its worth. But it is hard to explain that freedom is not just a word; it is a value, dynamic, worth its weight in gold, as well as in spiritual satisfaction. Freedom is, indeed, a spiritual matter and when men gain it all else seems to be added unto them.

Strangely enough, we have to learn this lesson over and over again. We give up a little freedom here, a big freedom there, for some immediate, short-term material gain. Soon we find that in giving up freedom, we suffer a long-term material loss. Freedom and prosperity go together, but cannot be traded one for the other. Whenever someone suggests that you make such a trade, get ready to shout, "Don't Fence Me In."

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

South America is a fertile field for Scripture distribution. The translation of portions of the Bible is going on continually. First copies of the Miskito Psalms arrived in Honduras and Nicaragua at the beginning of 1959 and a larger undertaking, that of the Keshi New Testament for the people speaking that tongue in Guatemala, is in the press.

The Central American Mission has freed Mr. Edward Sywaka, an accomplished linguist, to continue the revision of the Mam New Testament in the dialect of Huehuetenango. He has already reworded the Epistle to the Romans with his colleagues and this is to be multilithed so that the revision can be tested in practice while it is in the process of translation.

The Good Driver

Some Common Driving Errors in Making a Left Turn:

Failed to signal intention to change into passing lane well before reaching intersection.

Failed to signal intention to turn left — not necessarily the same thing as above.

Hand in wrong position when changing gear shift lever to neutral. Should be "palm down, press down", fingers open, points out the Ontario Safety League.

Stopped with a dip-jerk. (It may have been slight, imperceptible to the driver, but if it were enough to knock over an empty pop bottle standing on the floor it was a driving fault).

Sat waiting in low gear for light to change. This is a very common fault. Here are some of the things that could cause the foot to slip off the clutch, and the car lurch forward — a slushy shoe, a seizure, toothache, bee stings or other sudden pain.

A man is in a Toronto hospital at the moment with an injured neck — dislocated by the "whiplash" as his car jerked forward out of control. He had been sitting in gear at a red light when a car came up behind, just a little too fast, bumped him and caused his foot to slip off the clutch. If his car had lurched into the path of another, his injuries might have been much worse, states the Ontario Safety League.

Stopped partly on the crosswalk. Sometimes the crosswalk is not marked, but it still exists. The portion of roadway immediately between the ends of the sidewalks is considered to be the crosswalk, and must be kept clear.

Started with a jerk.

Cut across oncoming traffic when making left turn. Cars coming straight through have the right of way, states the Ontario Safety League.

Changed gear while turning.

Turned into wrong position. It is most important that a car should be close to the centre line of the roadway before making a left turn and after making it.

Failed to signal intention to move into right-hand lane. After turning into the left lane the driver should pick up speed in that lane, then signal before moving into the "driving lane" points out the Ontario Safety League.

In the 12 months up to December 1958, Canada's consumer price index rose by two and a half per cent.

Lawn Responds Best To Fall Feeding

The cool-season grasses of Ontario respond best to fertilizers applied in the spring and fall, say lawn experts with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. One last application of plant food now will bring sluggish midsummer grass to top form this fall.

What grade of fertilizer will you use? Let's suppose you have a 6-12-12 general fertilizer mixture. For the gardener who isn't too familiar with such rotation, here's the picture: A 6-12-12 mixture contains 6 per cent nitrogen, 12 per cent phosphoric acid and 12 per cent potash. Specific plant needs warrant specific fertilizer grades. For example, a common grade used for turf is 10-6-4.

When you spread your fertilizer, you'll probably use one of these methods: hand broadcast, rotary bag, drop-from-hopper, rotary throw or liquid spray. Be sure to distribute the fertilizer evenly. See that all lumps are finely pulverized. It is a good idea to apply about one-half the required rate over the entire lawn. Then repeat at right angles to the first application. To avoid a checkerboard effect try not to leave any unfertilized strips and don't overlap areas that have already received the required amount.

A high nitrogen grade of fertilizer like 10-6-4 is good for lawns. Apply it at a rate of 1 pound per 100 square feet. Be sure not to apply it when the grass is wet, because burning may result. Rake the grass lightly or sweep with a broom after application to remove any fertilizer that may be sticking to the grass. After this a good watering will help. Fertilizers that will not burn are also available, but they are more expensive. Two of this type are 6-10-4 and 6-9-6.

CONSERVATION NEWS

Forest Protection

A summary of fires in the Tweed District so far this season shows a total of 94 outbreaks with 204 acres burned over. Most of the area burned occurred during the months of April and May.

The steel lookout tower on Jamieson Mountain north of Denbigh, has been completed and will be manned shortly and equipped with two-way radio communication.

Fish and Wildlife

The deer population in the southern portion of the Forest District of Tweed has been steadily increasing over the past several years. By 1957 the herd had built up to such an extent that the Department opened the season for two weeks, the same as the regular season in our bush lands to the north. Conditions at that time indicated that a large number of deer could be harvested without damaging the natural reproduction potentiality of the herd.

A great many of the hunters favoured this long season in the south. It meant a full week's hunting for some and at least two week-ends for most for here was an ample opportunity for men to get their share of a hunt that was only next door away.

For the landowners the two weeks' season was another thing. Hunter-Farmer relationship wasn't what it should be. Signs soon appeared posting the land against trespass and many hunters were deprived of their sport, largely through the carelessness and inconsideration of a few.

To prevent further posting of lands and in an effort to place a happy medium for all, the Department has now reverted to a one week season in the South, but has included the rough timbered area south of No. 7 Highway in the Bob's Lake area with the area to the north where a two week season conforms.

Pros and cons regarding the season in the south meant a delay in the announcement and many hunters have been anxiously inquiring, wanting to know when they should take their holidays, wanting of course, to have them for the deer season.

Regulations are now in effect stating the deer season in South-eastern Ontario and is here summarized for the Tweed District:

Northern Season — November 9th to November 21st.

Includes the area north of No. 7 Highway from the western boundary of Hastings County to where it intersects with No. 38 Highway. East of No. 38 Highway and north of County Road No. 8 from the Village of Godfrey to the eastern boundary of Frontenac County and on to Westport.

Southern Season — November 9th to November 14th.

Includes the area south of the above described line (No. 7 Highway and County Road No. 8) to Highway No. 2).

Closed in all areas south of No. 2 Highway.

NOTE — For information concerning other Districts, please consult any officer of the Department of Lands and Forests or write to the District Forester in the particular District in which you are interested.

Remember, a licence to hunt deer does not give the holder the right to trespass on private lands. Consult the landowner for permission before entering on his land. A good Hunter-Farmer relationship will mean more game, more recreation and a freer country for you and yours.

Avoid Plastic Panic

Many years ago we heard an old Scottish woman crooning a lullaby, "Hush ye my little one, hush ye my pretty one, the Black Douglas shall not get ye." Children were lulled to sleep with this old song in the days when caring for them included protecting them from the enemies of the family, clan or tribe.

Family feuds that threaten human life have died out in our western world. Father no longer works with one eye on the plough and a sharp lookout for the enemy lurking in the underbrush. The protection of the family has been taken over by the local police and firemen. Their health is guarded by pure food and drug laws and by public health officers.

The old enemies that were a threat to life and health have been vanquished but many new dangers now come right into our homes. One of them is the limp plastic bags now in common use. There have been a few panicky outbreaks that their manufacture and distribution should be prohibited. What are the facts concerning this recently recognized menace?

In Canada, since January 1959, there have been about ten infant deaths due to suffocation by plastic film. These deaths are certainly a matter of grave concern but they are a small fraction of the total accidental deaths in Canadian homes during the same period. Falls, fire, poisoning, food suffocation, firearms, drowning and submersion have all taken their toll of child life.

How can we protect our children? By taking care. Most accidents don't happen, they are caused by someone's carelessness. Small children must have our watchful protection. Panic creates tension, worry, makes one more accident prone. A few sensible precautions are needed.

In the matter of plastic bags, Safety Leagues, the Plastic Industry, the Department of Health and Welfare, the Canadian Institute of Launderers and Dry Cleaners, hospitals, radio and television stations and newspapers are all working to alert parents to the dangers of the misuse of limp plastic bags.

But the real responsibility is the parents. If limp plastic bags come into your home — keep them away from all children — do not use them as make-shift covers for crib or furniture; there is a heavy gauge plastic produced for this purpose, quite safe and inexpensive too; — destroy them, burn them (they make excellent garbage containers) so roll up your refuse, tie tightly and put them in your garbage can.

We cannot possibly remove all potentially dangerous articles from our homes. These include such universal comforts and conveniences as fire, water and headache tablets. There are thousands of household items now in common use that contain dangerous ingredients. We would not wish to have them taken off the market as we have found them of great benefit in keeping our homes clean and sanitary. But like the parents of long ago, when the enemy came in human form, we can take care!

Economists Compare E.E.C. With Canadian Farms

There are 194 million acres of farm land in the six countries that comprise the European Economic Community — only about 11 per cent more than Canada's 174 million farming acres.

But reports the Economics Division of the Canada Department of Agriculture, there are over 17 times as many farms — 9.6 million compared with Canada's 575,000.

Average farm in the European countries contains 20 acres and two-thirds have less than 12 acres, while in Canada the average farm is 315 acres.

The six member countries of EEC, also known as the European Common Market, are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. EEC came into being January 1, 1958.

Tractor Use

In Canada, 87 per cent of farms have tractors, compared with 15 per cent in the EEC countries. More than 26 per cent of the labour force in the European countries is occupied in agriculture, while in this country, farm labour amounts to about 12 per cent.

With many small farms, production is intensive in the common market countries. There are about 44 million cattle, of which 19 million are milk cattle. Canada has 11 million cattle, with three million of these being milk cattle. European farms can carry about 31 livestock units per 100 acres, compared with seven here.

Wheat Market

Though the common market countries have traditionally been a big market for Canadian wheat, they are also large producers. In 1953-57 they produced an average of 820 million bushels a year, compared with 472 million bushels in Canada. Average yields were 32 bushels and 20 bushels per acre respectively.

Meat and milk production is also high. In 1953-57, an annual average of about 16 billion pounds of meat was produced in the European countries and 2.8 billion in Canada. Output of milk was about 124 billion pounds, compared with Canadian production of about 17 billion pounds.

Common Policy

Adds the Economics Division: "The six countries of the European Economic Community plan eventually to set up a common agricultural policy. This will probably result in an increase in the quantity of food supplied from within the community, but with a population of 166 million, the area will continue to be a large net importer of food".

In a more detailed study published in the February issue of Economic Annalist, Frank Shefrin and Dr. E. Jaska noted that EEC has set up a 12-year transitional period and that "it is not expected that changes will take place rapidly in agriculture".

The Economic Annalist article dealt in detail with the major provisions of the Common Market Treaty, the economic importance of the European Economic Community, the agricultural industry of the six countries generally, and the trade outlook.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

MARKETING CO-OPS INCREASE BUSINESS

Co-operatives in Canada did a record-smashing business last year, with the total volume amounting to $1,224,557,000 — an increase of $92 million over the previous year.

This was revealed in a report by the Economics Division of the Canada Department of Agriculture, whose officials tabulated figures submitted by 2,882 co-operatives across the nation.

Significant Rise

Co-operatives marketed about 33 per cent of all agricultural products entering commercial trade in Canada last year — the highest proportion since 1953. An overall increase in the sales volume of co-operative merchandise, farm supplies and commodities was reported in 1958.

A significant development is the fact that marketing co-operatives did $895 million business, the highest on record and $77.7 million more than in 1957. All provinces shared in this increase. The previous high was in 1953, when a carry-over from the 1952 wheat crop was marketed.

Reporting to the Economics Division were marketing, purchasing, fishermen's and service co-operatives. Estimated total membership is 1,592,000.

Service co-operatives include: housing, rural electrification, medical insurance, transportation, recreation facilities, telephone, custom grinding, seed cleaning, restaurants, boarding houses and miscellaneous.

There are fishermen's co-operatives in all provinces except Alberta and Manitoba.

Saskatchewan, which boasts of its wheat growing, has an active fishermen's co-op whose members carry on a thriving business in the Reindeer Lake district.

Wholesalers Gain

The ten co-operative wholesalers operating in Canada last year reported a gain of $31 million to reach a total of $250 million in sales of supplies and farm products. Of this amount, supplies accounted for $138 million. Flour, feed and fertilizer made up 37 per cent of the sales, with gas, oil and automobile supplies in second place in importance.

Marketing of farm products as reported by wholesale co-ops reached $112 million — an increase of $18 million over the 1957 figure. The largest items handled were livestock and livestock products (54 per cent) and dairy products (30 per cent).

The beginnings of the co-operative movement in Canada can be traced back to 1789. In that year, agricultural societies with some co-operative features were organized in what are now Nova Scotia and Quebec.

The Economics Division has been compiling annual statistics since 1932.

Credit Unions, another type of co-operative or which there are about 4,500, are not included in this report.

SWINE RATION

The addition of aureomycin to the nursing, growing and fattening rations of pigs, was not a profitable venture in tests at the Ste Anne de la Pocatiere, Experimental Farm.

A feeding experiment with comparable litter groups was started in the fall of 1953.

For the nursing period, three litter groups were used to test the effects of no creep feeding and creep feeding with and without aureomycin supplementation.

The non-creep-fed litters gained slightly less than one-half pound daily the creep-fed litters about one-half pound and those creep-fed with aureomycin a little over one-half pound.

From weaning to market the average daily gain of the pigs without aureomycin was 1.30 pounds as compared with 1.36 pounds for those receiving the antibiotics.

The latter group used slightly less feed per 100 pounds gain — 321 as compared to 333 pounds for the control group. There was no difference in carcass grade or dressing percentage between the two groups.

CHEMICAL STOPS POTATO SPROUTING IN STORAGE

An increasingly large number of potato growers now know the trick of preventing potatoes from sprouting. They use a chemical known as Maleic Hydrazide.

The chemical is sprayed on the plant leaves after the tubers are formed, but before harvest, advises the Fields Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. The chemical moves down through the plant's vein system to the tubers, where it will prevent sprouting for up to a year. The potatoes then stay firm and useable until the effect of the chemical finally wears off.

The chemical is easy to apply to potato plants in the field. About 6 to 6 1/2 pounds of the chemical powder, mixed in 80 to 120 gallons of water per acre, are sprayed on the plants just before harvest and after the potatoes are fully formed. It is important to apply the chemical after the potatoes have reached full bloom, and after tubers have been set and formed. In no case should it be applied when tops begin to turn brown and die. Potatoes intended for seed should not be treated.

Treated potatoes look and taste the same as any other potato. The only difference is that they will keep looking like a potato should — firm and sprout-free — much longer than untreated potatoes will.

CORN BORER AND EARWORM ROGUES OF CORN PATCHES

Those mangled ears of corn won't look too good on the dinner table — that is, if they get that far. This is the concern of many home gardeners who like a feed of sweet corn once in a while but lose out so often to insect pests.

Entomologists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture put the European corn borer and the corn earworm at the top of the list of rogues in corn patches. It's too late to do anything about the damage to this year's crop but these experts have the answers for better things next year.

The corn borer feeds on all parts of the plant. The best time for control is just as the eggs hatch. These eggs are pearly white, each being smaller than a pin-head. They are laid in clusters of about 10 to 40 and overlap like fish-scales. Eggs of the first brood are laid anywhere from the middle of June to early July. They hatch in 4 to 9 days. In warmer parts of the province, there is a second generation, starting in August on late-planted corn.

Control

Get rid of all corn stalks and stubble May 30. Insecticides — Use DDT in the form of a 50 per cent wettable powder, 25 per cent emulsion, or a 5 per cent dust. Apply to the young whorl, and later to both whorl and cobs.

The corn earworm may be as long as 2 inches and is often as thick as a pencil. Its injury centres on the tip of the cob where it eats the kernels and leaves a dirty deposit called frass. The adult moth may lay 500 to 3,000 eggs, placing them singly on the corn silk. The eggs are yellowish and about half the size of the borer eggs.

The larvae work down the silk and feed on the cob tips for 2 to 4 weeks. Earworms are cannibalistic, so it is unusual to find more than one on any single cob.

For control try these forms of DDT: 25 per cent Emulsion; 50 per cent Wettable Powder; 5 per cent dust.

Start applications when 25 per cent of the silk shows. Direct into the silk.

Where Love Dwells

Today many in the medical profession agree that some of the illnesses of mankind are produced by mental causes, such as resentment towards another fear, personal friction, covetousness and the like. No doubt physicians attempt to point out in a tactful way these erroneous thoughts to their patients and thus help them to overcome the effects stemming from such thinking.

But how to overcome hatred, for instance, may be difficult for an individual, even when its destructive effect has been pointed out. Some of us may feel that we have been cruelly wronged and therefore are justified in feeling vindictive. Or, if we seem to lack the good things of life, we may see the success of another and may, almost unconsciously, covet his possessions.

It was the mission of Christ Jesus to show the world that no one needs to covet what another has, that the kingdom of God is here and is available to all. The Master gave us an example of patience and forbearance when he was maligned and persecuted. He said (Matthew 5: 44-45), "I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven."

HOW MUCH WATER SHOULD INFANTS DRINK?

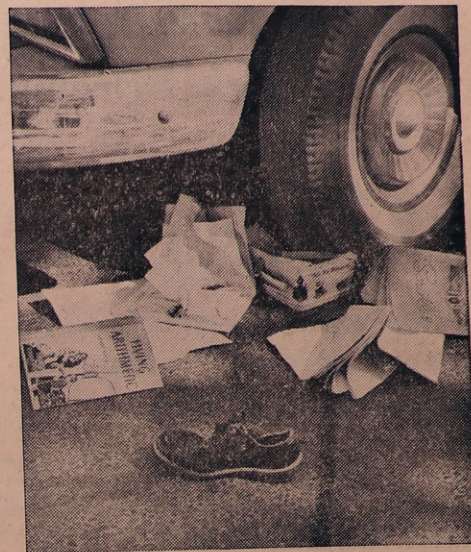

The quarrelsome question of just how much water a baby should drink to maintain health is answered specifically in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

The Question Box of the magazine says that a baby's requirements of fluid, everything included, are as follows:

Three ounces per pound of body weight up to 40 ounces. After the baby is twelve pounds in weight, a little less is usually needed. More water is indicated in hot weather, or if the baby is feverish.

This, of course, includes water-bearing items, such as milk, both in formulas and in cereals, fruit juices, water used in formula and bath water swallowed.

Most formula are calculated on the basis both of fluid and caloric needs.

Johnny won't be in school this morning

His mind full of plans for the day, Johnny forgot to watch the traffic. He didn't get to school at all that day; or for many days while he recovered from his injuries.

September is back-to-school month, and the start of the Ontario Department of Transport's Child Traffic Safety campaign.

Teachers in every school in the province are helping youngsters to stay alive by teaching them the rules of traffic safety. Will you help? Remind them always to cross at corners, obey traffic signals and look both ways before crossing.

Your Ontario Department of Transport urges you to make sure they follow all the rules of traffic safety.

MacDonald -- Heagle Nuptials at Hoard's

Hoard's United Church, decorated with pink and white gladioli and ferns, was the setting for a pretty wedding on Saturday, September the fifth, when Muriel Maude, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heagle, was united in marriage to Sidney MacDonald, of Stirling, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lorne MacDonald, of Dalkeith. Rev. Gordon Whitehorse officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. Donald Bennett played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Margaret Van Volkenburg, as she sang "The Lord is My Shepherd", before the ceremony and "O Father All Creating" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was elegant in a floor-length gown of Italian tie silk, designed with a princess fitted bodice adorned with an Alencon lace Sabrina neckline and tiny shirred sleeves, emphasized with lily-pointed gauntlets. Her fully-bouffant skirt, worn over many crinolines, was complemented with a torso cummerbund, accented with a panel of Alencon lace. Her pill-box of matching material was dotted with identical lace and tiny seed pearls and caught to a finger-tip veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a mauve orchid with streamers of white feathered carnations on a white Bible, the gift of Hoard's W.A.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Jack Ufford, of Dorval, Que., wore a street-length gown of Royal blue peau-de-sole, with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a nose-gay of tinted pink and blue "mums and gladioli". Bridesmaids, Mrs. Charles Anderson, of Winchester, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Gerald Heagle, sister-in-law of the bride, wore identical street-length princess line gowns of Royal blue peau-de-sole. They carried nosegays of tinted pink "mums and gladioli". The attendants all wore matching headresses and shoes of Royal blue and white gloves.

Groomsman was Ronald Werry, of Oshawa, and Donald MacDonald, of Oakville, brother of the groom, and Gerald Heagle, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The reception was held in the church parlours, where the bride's mother received, wearing a blue tulle crepe with beige accessories and corsage of pink carnations, assisted by the groom's step-mother, wearing a Dior blue sheath dress with dusty rose accessories and corsage of white carnations.

For a wedding trip to the Atlantic Coast, the bride chose a 2-piece novelty boucle dress suit in a russet shade designed on sheath lines and flattered with a thimble jacket. She wore a matching shade of hat, designed as a bee-hive, daintily trimmed with coque feathers in graduated shades of brown and wore brown shoes, gloves and bag.

On their return, they will live in Stirling, where the groom is the Agricultural Representative for Hastings County.

Previous to her marriage, the bride-elect was entertained at the following showers in her honour—Mrs. Clayton Thompson was hostess for a cup and saucer shower; Mrs. Allan Watson entertained at a miscellaneous shower; Mrs. Milton Miree was hostess when the Young Adults Club of St. John's United Church, Campbellford, presented her with several pieces of crystal ware; the choir and W.A. of Hoard's United Church entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Potts; the Bank girls of Campbellford met at the Withum cottage, Bradley Bay, and presented her with a table lamp; a matching lamp was also given by the staff of the Bank of Montreal, where she has worked for the past ten years. The Ag. Reps., of the district held a dinner in their honour at the home of Miss Wilhemina Huffman, Corbyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Petherick visited with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Craighhead on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Parr, Hoard's, called on Mr. and Mrs. Bill Petherick on Sunday evening.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Annie Ross, of St. Catharines, who was buried at Burnbrae last week.

The flowers on the church altar on Sunday were in memory of Miss Elizabeth Milne, who was laid to rest on Friday.

From time to time, we have noticed the pleas from citizens to stop throwing litter and trash about the town, cenotaph, etc. We would like to remind anyone responsible that the country is just as important. It is late in the season to speak of this, but it may prick the conscience of those responsible. On Sunday, I could not help but notice the garbage left lying along Crowe River where a number of people have enjoyed camping and had a bonfire. Surely common sense would tell them that bottle caps (many in number) should not be thrown in the water where dozens of little toddlers bathe. Dangerous too are the lids of tin cans left lying in the grass, along the river's edge. In one place the remains of a bonfire had been partly shoved into the water. Every trip walking on cinders? The flat rock of the river-bed is much more pleasant. I do wish for everyone, a pleasant time when they camp, but let's give some consideration to the next fellow who trods the same path and to the owner of the property who allows us the freedom of his woods.

Thank you for your co-operation in the future—the child you protect from getting a serious cut from broken bottles (most unnecessary) may be your own. In fact, it may even be yourself.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME ARRANGED FOR FAIR ON SATURDAY NEXT

Allan Shows Midway and
Geo. Hamid Artists and
J. Thyme "Kansas Farmer"

With the annual Fall Fair sponsored by the Stirling Agricultural Society scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week, September 18th and 19th, the committee in charge of the various attractions in front of the grandstand has lined up a programme for Saturday, September 19th that should appeal to all, and indications point to it being one of the best ever seen locally.

E. Sandercock, M.P.P.

To Open Fair

Elmer Sandercock, M.P.P., for Hastings West, Ontario, will officially open the Fair at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday.

In preparing the programme, the committee has ever kept in view that the Fair is primarily for the agriculturists of the community and has endeavoured to make it of particular interest to farmers. However, the urban dwellers have not been overlooked and there are many items that should appeal to them as well.

It is the hope of the Society that the citizens of Stirling and community will show their appreciation of the efforts put forth by the directors by giving their wholehearted support to the Fair not only with their attendance but by competing in as many events as possible.

Acknowledge Donations

The directors desire to thank the citizens of Stirling and Hastings County who, by their generous donations, have assisted them in arranging for this year's fair.

Copies of the Prize List may be obtained from R. E. Short, Secretary.

Trials of Speed

All of the familiar events are again on the agenda and a good afternoon's entertainment is promised for Saturday, September 19th. Horse racing enthusiasts will again be able to enjoy their favourite sport as trials of speed—Free-For-All and two Classified Races with purses of $150.00—are included in the programme.

There will also be pony races for two classes, 11 to 14 hands, and under 11 hands.

Bicycle Races

Bicycle races for the boys and girls are also on the agenda. There are three classes, half mile for boys 15 and over; 1-3 mile for boys under 15; 1-8 mile for girls under 15.

Good Exhibits

There will also be the usual good horse and cattle exhibits, as well as sheep and swine. In the main building will be found the ladies' work exhibit, chess exhibits, High and Public School exhibits and the Horticultural exhibits.

Junior Farmer Section

In the Junior Section of the Fair patrons will be privileged to view the achievement day exhibits of the Stirling 4-H Club, South Hastings 4-H Club, South Hastings Sweet Corn Club, South Hastings 4-H Tractor Club and Moira Trent 4-H Forestry Club. The farm machinery companies will also have their usual display of farm equipment on the grounds.

The customary Junior Farmer section will again be featured this year.

Platform Performance

The Frankford Pipe Band will provide music throughout the afternoon. George Hamid Artists, Toronto, and Jack Thyme, "the Kansas Farmer" will be seen in the platform performance.

Good Midway

Arrangements have been made with the Allan Shows for a Midway with rides and booths for both the children and the adult patrons of the Fair.

Refreshment booths will be in operation on the grounds, while the ladies of Wellman's United Church will serve hot meals in the Fair dining hall.

Stirling Legion Appeals For Funds To Paint and Repair Arena

Work Now Under Way To Assure Community Youth
Proper Skating Facilities

The chill in the air of the past few days turns one's thoughts to the coming skating and hockey season, and members of Stirling Legion have already begun to prepare for it.

Since taking over the local Arena, the Legion has put a tremendous amount of work and considerable money into this project with the result that the people of Stirling and the surrounding community are assured of a splendid recreational outlet all winter for young and old in the fine ice skating and hockey Arena of today.

A large ice surface, dressing rooms, large heated Canteen area, and excellent accommodation will all be ready in good order to take care of Pee Wee, Bantam, Midget and Juvenile Hockey, as well as regular ice skating for all.

Roof Painted

Painting and repair of the entire roof is now under way, with the north side completed. An immediate expenditure of $400.00 is necessary, and Stirling Legion is appealing to every body interested in this vital community asset to help with a cash donation towards the raising of this amount.

The benefit to the youth of our village and vicinity in safe skating and healthy body-building activity all winter cannot be estimated and is well worth backing.

The following persons have begun the good work:

Ted Fleming, Ivanhoe	$50.00
A. Fraser, Stirling	25.00
Ken Sine, Harold	15.00
O. McMaster, Ivanhoe	10.00

THE FOOD BASKET

PLUMS OR PRUNES

Do you know the difference between fresh plums and prunes? Actually all prunes are plums but not all plums are prunes. Fresh prunes generally have firmer flesh, higher sugar and acid content than plums and, perhaps on account of these features, can be dried without fermenting when the pit is left in. Canadian prunes are sold fresh, canned, frozen, and in jams and jellies, etc., but not dried.

Prune plums are purplish blue but so are many others. The only sure way you can tell the difference between plums and prunes is to open them up and observe the centre; the pit of a fresh prune separates easily from the flesh like a freestone peach but plums are similar to clingstone peaches — the flesh clings to the pit.

Both plums and prunes are perfect for eating fresh and for making jams, jellies, chutneys, pies and puddings. They're both good, too, when stewed in a syrup. Use a thin syrup (1 cup sugar to 2 cups water) for sweet fresh plums and prunes and a moderately thin syrup (1 cup sugar to 1½ cups water) for sour plums.

Home canned or frozen plums are such a treat in the winter that it's a shame to let the season go by without putting some away. Directions for freezing and canning plums are included in the free Consumer Section booklets "Freezing Foods" and "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables", and "Jams, Jellies and Pickles" contains recipes for plum jam and jelly. All 3 bulletins are available free, from: Information Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

According to the latest survey of the Missionary Research Library, (December 8, 1958), there are at present 38,606 Protestant Missionaries at work in all countries. In Sub-Sahara Africa the proportion of missionaries has increased from 21 per cent in 1925, to 31.87 per cent (11,353).

The increase in demand for the Scriptures in Africa has been the highest of any area in the world.

"Union" versions of the Scriptures have been increased. There are now the Union Nyanja for Nyasaland, Union Ibo of South East Nigeria, Union Shona of Southern Rhodesia and Union Swahili of East Africa. Other versions are in preparation like Luyia of the Lake Province of Kenya and Kalemjin, part of the Rift Valley of the same county. These versions and other translations, and those for other parts of the world, numbering nearly 400, are supplied to all missionaries by the Bible Societies which are joined together in the United Bible Societies.

They are rebelling against the old injustice that skilled workmen must accept lower pay, simply because their colour is wrong. Christian Missionaries were the ones who instituted a programme of education in Africa and the great need is for more teachers.

Mrs. Milford Wrightman read a letter from the 1958 issue of "Missionaries Reporting" written by Miss Frances Wallbridge. She is now home and will give an address on October 14th in Mount Pleasant Church at the Belleville West W.M.S. Sectional Rally.

Horticultural Society Hints TRIMMING HEDGES

Hedges that need clipping should be done soon. Shape them so that the top is somewhat narrower and the bottom can get more light, thus preventing sparse growth below. Annual slipping of deciduous hedges should be done in May or June and then a second lighter slipping in August to remove any shaggy secondary growth. Late midsummer is the right time for shaping evergreen hedges.

TIPS ON HOW TO PLANT BULBS:

1. You can plant tulips in well-drained soil any time before the ground freezes. Lighten heavy soil with sand. Plant in trench about 8 inches deep; space 6 inches apart. Mix bone meal or prepared bulb food thoroughly by digging it into the soil with hand trowel before putting in bulbs.

2. You can also plant tulips in individual holes if your soil is loose and has been under cultivation for some time. Space out bulbs, plant in rows or groups.

3. Use at least 6 bulbs of the same variety in a group for best display. Measure depth to plant — at least 8 inches. Mix bulb food in hole, set bulb point up.

4. When you have placed all bulbs in trench or individual holes, fill the holes with soil, tramp down lightly, water if weather is dry. After first heavy frost, mulch area with leaves or straw.

5. Before filling in all soil, label the bulbs with variety name, colour and date of planting. Markers will prevent you from digging area during spring clean-up.

The largest meteorite ever recovered in Canada, made of iron and weighing 386 pounds, was found at Iron Springs, Alberta, in 1869 and is now displayed at Toronto's Victoria College.

The Good Driver

"Suddenly" . . . "without any warning" . . . "unpredictably": these are typical of the expressions used by an accident victim to describe the injustice of the fate that overtook him. But the Ontario Safety League says that an accident, although it seems to be out-of-the-blue, is usually the result of a long period of preparation and rehearsal.

It has been estimated that every industrial accident arising from an unsafe act, is preceded on the average by 30 similar unsafe acts, that were uneventful. The man who pays the penalty of carelessness at the work bench "get away with it" about 300 times before he gets hurt.

Whether the same 1-to-300 proportion of hits to misses applies to automobile accidents is not known. But probably the relationship is similar. Certainly the principle is inescapable — an unsafe act inevitably leads to harm if it is repeated often enough.

The vast majority of motorists who end up in hospital or paying the "deductible" end of the repair bill, are skillful drivers. They are skillful enough to drive for a lifetime without a scratch or a bump if they gave their best at all times. But they don't give their best. Frequently they take chances, recognizing the risks but believing them to be slight. In other words, they rely on luck as well as skill to keep them intact.

The man who habitually passes on a hill, or ignores Stop signs, or ignores wig-wags, rapidly uses up his "free" chances in the gamble. One day he will have to pay. And perhaps his son, whom he taught to drive in the same fashion, will get a similar bill.

Unsafe acts lead eventually to near-misses, which lead eventually to accidents. The good driver tries his utmost to keep off any part of this broad-based ladder to disaster.

Didn't Appear Arrest Accused

Gordon Elmer Spencer, 32, of Belleville, was arrested by Belleville city police on a Belleville street on Tuesday of this week. A bench warrant had been issued for his arrest when he failed to appear for trial on assault and rape charges before Supreme Court assizes at Belleville Tuesday.

About 90 percent of Canada's electric energy is produced by water power.

Prov. Scholarship Awards

Mrs. H. B. MacMahon, Provincial Educational Secretary, announced that the Provincial Chapter of Ontario, I.O.D.E., has awarded two scholarships valued at $1,400.00 each, for study in Universities in Ontario.

The Provincial Scholarship in Pure and Applied Science has been awarded to Charles Stanley Matthias, Walkerton, Ontario. Mr. Matthias is an honour graduate of the Walkerton High School. He successfully wrote eleven subjects in grade 13 with an average of 86 per cent. He is entering the first year Engineering Physics course at Toronto University.

Miss Ingrid Barbara Bennick, 68 Hillside Drive, Toronto, has been awarded the Provincial Scholarship in the Humanities and Social Sciences. She is an honour graduate of East York Collegiate Institute, having passed grade 13 examinations with an average of 89 per cent. She is entertaining the first year of the Modern Languages and Literature course at Victoria College, Toronto.

Both students have been active in their school programs and come highly recommended for scholastic ability.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

DEFICIENCY PAYMENT

"Deficiency payment programs for farm support should not be applied hokus-bokus to all farm crops," declared Gordon, Greer, President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. "We in OFA have supported their use in the case of wool, soybeans, sugar beets and other crops which Canada is deficient in. But we do not believe deficiency payments will benefit farmers who are producing crops which are in a surplus position at the moment. This is the case with hogs and eggs, where deficiency payments are being used primarily to control production."

"As the major farm organization in Ontario," he continued, "we have tried to advise the federal government on its policy for its support programs. We feel deficiency payments should be put in force only when a commodity group asks for them."

"However, our efforts have been unsuccessful," Mr. Greer said. "Now as President of the OFA, I advise all farmers in Ontario who are affected by a deficiency payment program, to register with the Agricultural Stabilization Board at Ottawa as soon as possible. This will be the only way that farmers will receive whatever benefits might come out of the federal government's new program of deficiency payments."

WINTER BARLEY

Existing commercial varieties of winter barley can only be grown in small areas of Eastern Canada where the winters are relatively mild, states R. Lolselle, of the Genetics and Plant Breeding Research Institute, Ottawa.

Winter-hardy varieties are needed for their higher yields and early harvesting characteristics.

Plant breeders at the Ontario Agricultural College and in the Research Branch, Canada Department of Agriculture, have been working for a number of years to develop improved, winter-hardy varieties of malting and feed barleys that are high yielding and possess disease and lodging resistance. Although some progress has been made, winter-hardiness remains a major problem.

Some of the wild barleys are extremely winter-hardy and attempts are being made to transfer this characteristic to the cultivated forms by crossing and selection.

RING ROT INFECTION KEPT TO MINIMUM

Inspection of all fields of commercial potatoes in Ontario is now underway across the province, in a concerted effort to control the spread of bacterial Ring Rot disease. This comparatively new disease is prevalent in practically all potato-producing areas of the North American Continent, and it is considered a major problem in many areas. It is described by plant pathologists as "the most infectious and destructive seed-borne disease to be found anywhere". By educational and enforcement measures losses from this disease in Ontario have been kept at a minimum. Fortunately, the disease does not remain in the soil, and infected tubers may be used with safety and confidence for human consumption.

In addition to a staff of eighteen part-time inspectors employed at this season of the year, all regular members of the Seed Potato Certification Service, of the Canada Department of Agriculture, and the Fields Crops Branch, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, have the power to enter any premises between sunrise and sunset to make an inspection. This service to growers and dealers is provided without charge, and in an effort to maintain and improve the quality of this important basic food commodity.

Requests for field inspection should be made at once to any Agricultural Representative in every County or District, or direct to the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

NOBODY BRUNG MAGGIE

Our Winnipeg papers gave a great deal of space to the efforts of the CCF and the Canadian Labor Congress to agree on general principles for a new political party to take the place of the CCF which has failed to win over the farmers. I read all the reports and they made me think of the old story about the hillbilly who came to the city for the first time.

He stood in front of a bank of elevators in one of the big buildings, and he was completely fascinated. An old lady, bent and wrinkled, hobbled up to an elevator, pressed a button, and the doors opened. She hobbled in and the doors closed. The hillbilly listened to the noises and stared at the flashing lights for a couple of minutes. Then the doors opened again, and out stepped a lovely young woman. The hillbilly gawked and shook his head. He was convinced some magic had changed the old woman into a young beauty. "Holy cow!" he exclaimed, "I shoulda brung Maggie along."

Only trouble with that story is that you don't hardly find no hillbillies like that no more. Leastwise not in the neighbourhood of Winnipeg. The meeting had plenty of noises and flashing lights, but there wasn't a farmer for miles around who didn't realize that the old woman who stepped into the seminar was still around the premises somewhere.

This reaction on the part of farmers, who are far from being hillbillies, was most annoying to Mr. David Lewis, the CCF president. He was sure they must have been taken in by the propaganda of big business. After all, the new party was dressed up specially to appeal to farmers, and it was pretty dull of them not to be impressed. A few farmers came and took a look, but only on their own. None of them rushed home to fetch Maggie.

Duck Season Starts Sept. 19th

Many duck hunters have enquired when the season opens in this area, due to the confusion about noon and early morning openings.

In this district the season opens Sept. 19, at one half hour before sunrise and closes Dec. 15, one half hour after sunset.

Small Town Policemen

(Napanee Beaver)

Napanee's policemen have come under a cloud of suspicion because of charges raised by the Napanee Town Council and an investigation is now underway by the Attorney-General's Department.

No citizen wants policemen who are dishonest and it is an unfortunate fact that a policeman who even becomes suspect loses much of his value as an enforcer of law and order in a community. But the song about a policeman's lot not being a happy one was never more accurate than when describing the lot of a policeman in a small town.

All policemen have a pretty tough proposition. In most cases they are underpaid and undertrained, often undereducated. But in small towns they are more often than not caught right-in-the-middle of every squeeze. They are victims of political assassins on the one hand and on the other hand, citizens who know them, or know someone, and who don't expect to be treated like everybody else. Too often when a hue and cry is raised the council is quick to condemn the police.

George Cadogan writes in the Durham Chronicle: "When a small-town constable takes action against law-breakers he often runs up against an invisible wall. Leading citizens and merchants listen sympathetically to complaints against the constable. Councillors often discuss matters in a manner that undermines the police force. The local constable who is trying to do a job is often left far out on a limb."

There is nothing more despicable than a dishonest policeman, nor more frustrating than an inefficient one. But sometimes one wonders why any kind of policemen would take the job at all.

Canadian consumption of crude oil and products in 1958 was 738,600 barrels daily.

Pick Right
Materials For Your Hog House

Asbestos cement board, aluminum and galvanized iron do their best job when they're used as roofing material. It's best to stay away from these materials in any other part of a hog house.

That's what L.A.C. Agricultural Engineer, F. H. Theakston, found after investigating application methods, costs and performance of six different materials for use in hog houses.

"After the houses were in use for a year, we found the plywood siding and roofing and the tongue and groove siding gave the best service," said Theakston. "The plywood roofing did need repainting but was much superior to the hardboard siding which had warped and had holes in it."

"The asbestos cement board siding was badly damaged and had three large holes in the siding of one house," he added.

Professor Theakston found that the walls of aluminum sheeting were in very bad shape. The aluminum had pushed out and the nails pulled through. The galvanized iron came through the test better though it exhibited bulges at the bottom of doors and walls.

"A point of interest," he said, "was that the studding in all houses and buffer boards used in the aluminum sheeted houses were badly chewed by the pigs in all cases."

Large Crowd Enjoys Fine Exhibits And Programme at Stirling Fair

Elmer Sandercock Officially Opens Fair — Thrilling Finishes In Trials of Speed

With ideal weather prevailing Stirling Fair attracted the largest crowd in its history on the occasion of its one hundred and first anniversary on Saturday last. "One of the best Fairs" was the common expression heard from the patrons and President Earl Wallace and the Board of Directors are to be complimented on the success attending their efforts.

W. E. Sandercock Officially Opens Fair

In declaring the fair open to the public, Mr. Sandercock paid tribute to the fair president, E. W. Wallace, and the fair board for the tremendous amount of work put into making this year's fair a success.

Noting the Stirling Fair had passed the 100-year mark, he stated: "The fair is in good hands and I'm sure it will run for another 100 years."

Brief addresses were also given by immediate past president and this year's treasurer, Clarence Fitchett, and fair director Ben Blecker.

Fair secretary, R. E. Shortt, said this year's attendance was among the highest for the annual autumn event.

Excellent Horse Show

There was an excellent horse show with both heavy and light classes being well filled as some of the best horse flesh in the Bay of Quinte was on exhibition.

In the light horse class, the following well-known exhibitors were noticed: James Johnson, of Frankford; Don Heath, of Campbellford; Miles Benedict, of Belleville; Will Kenny, of Odessa and Elmer Gerow, of Picton. A heavy entry list in the heavy horse class with Earl Nugent, of Napanee; Carl Grey, of Napanee; Vic Irwin, of Marmora; Gordon Jones, of Marmora; Gordon Chapman, of Cooper; Robert Danford, of Halloway; Bill Doyle, of Marmora; Harold Johnson, of Stirling and Fred Keating, of Frankford, having horses entered.

The pony class also received a good share of attention from exhibitors. Entrants included, Dave MacDonald, of Belleville; Carman Downey, of Crookston; Larry Bertrand, of Marmora; James MacMullen, of Springbrook; Paul Ouellette, of Odessa, and J. A. Boyd, of Belleville.

Exhibits In Main Building

The main exhibit building had its array of produce of garden and field, home cooking that made the mouth water, and handiwork ranging from large quilts to the smaller items of wearing apparel. The excellence of the farm and garden exhibits, as well as the fancy work, drew many fine compliments from the fair patrons.

Commercial exhibits in the main building included Jack's Appliance Shop, G. C. Mouck Hardware, C. Kilpatrick, Marmora, office equipment, and Air-Shade Aluminum Co., Napanee. A Homecraft Booth, with exhibits of feltcraft, by Mrs. Maurice Bell; leatherwork, by Mrs. Harold Chambers, and plastic foam by Mrs. Ed. Richardson, drew a great deal of attention from the crowd.

The Trent-Moira 4-H Forestry Club also had an interesting exhibit of various species of tree twigs, leaves and seeds, in the main building.

Cheese Show

There was a large commercial cheese exhibit with eight district makers entering a total of some forty cheeses, including Stiltons and square cheese. Don Deline, of Ivanhoe, carried off top honours, with other entrants being Don Pollock, Ivan Sine, Murray Heath, E. Reid, T. Sarles, H. Elliott and Ross Lalin.

School Section

It was in the agricultural building that the work of the junior department stood out. There were many fine exhibits of weeds, insects, vegetables and flowers. In addition there were the regular public school classes in drawing, writing and other school work. This exhibit attracted a great deal of attention and doubtless will continue to be a regular feature of the fair.

Domestic Science

The Domestic Science exhibit featured a delectable assortment of pies, cakes, cookies, tarts, bread and buns, and other examples of home baking art; also bottled goods, eggs, and boxed lunches.

Colorful Display

The Stirling Horticultural Society provided a colourful display of summer blooms and plants, attractively arranged in separate groups.

Products of farm and garden including a variety of fruits, vegetables, grains and seeds, were also on display.

Ladies' Work

The ladies' work section was by far the largest exhibit, with the domestic science section running second in number of individual items.

Lovely examples of clever and imaginative needlecraft were on display. Included in this division were ladies', men's and children's wear, a thrift division, and home craft section, featuring quilts, rugs, cushions, crocheted table cloths, dollies, embroidered and cutwork pillow cases, apron and towel sets, stuffed animals and pictures.

Among the ladies' work specials were collections of four aprons representing the seasons which showed a great deal of imagination, four-place settings for a children's birthday party and a new Canadian exhibit. A public address system, set up on the grounds and operated by F. DeCarrol, Campbellford, gave splendid service and carried the announcement of events to all parts of the grounds.

The midway attractions by Allan Shows were well patronized during the afternoon.

A Bingo game by Deseronto Firemen and a Boy Scout Booth, as well as the dinner and luncheon by Wellman's United Church were well patronized.

Varied Programme

The Frankford Pipe Band provided music during the afternoon and the entertainment portion of the program was provided by a daring female acrobat from Indianapolis, who performed acrobatic feats while swinging on ropes high above the crowds, and the "Kansas Farmer", Jack C. Thyme, who entertained the crowd with jokes and home-spun philosophy.

4-H Club

The South Hastings 4-H Grain and Sweet Corn Clubs displayed examples of the work undertaken by these groups. William Vermilyea, of R.R. 5, Belleville, was the winner of the sweet corn competition, with Glenn Heagle, of Harold, James Gunning, of Tweed, placing second and third respectively. Other exhibitors were Don Farrell, Paul Heagle, Owen Ketcheson, Harold Bateman, and Linda Ketcheson.

Exhibitors in the 4-H Grain Club display were: Allan Johnston, Doug. Rollins, Robert Hamilton, Dave Brooks, Robert Sager, Ken Farney, Elizabeth Sager, Isabella Sager, and Ronald Heath.

The corn club project, a miniature replica of a farm scene was won by Carl, Dorothy and David Brooks, of Frankford.

In the Calf Club Achievement Day Paul McKeown, acquired 951. The runner-up, Ron Heath, of Stirling, was only two points behind with 959. Jack Wood, the third-place youth had 945 (Continued on Page Eight)

Stirling Cubs Hold Inaugural

The first meeting of the Stirling Wolf Cubs was held Monday evening in the Stirling Public School with 42 boys registered. The program opened with staging of "O Canada" and Mrs. Wilkins led in prayer. The following boys were picked as leaders of their six: Allan Duffin, John Murray, Bruce Woodbeck, Ross McIntosh, Don Nunn and Robbie Marby.

Mr. Irish then explained the meaning of Cubbing. He stated that if a boy does not attend the meetings regularly, he will be taken out of the pack. As Mrs. Wilkins is leaving the group, Mr. Irish presented her with a little gift on behalf of the boys and leaders.

In conversation with the News-Argus, Mr. Irish pointed out that they are asking for help. When Mr. and Mrs. Irish took over the pack, they did not know one thing about Cubbing. So if you are asked to help, don't say you don't know anything about it. Would you want your boy sent home, because there are not the leaders to help? That is what is going to happen if help is not forthcoming. Contact Bob Cooke or David Duffin if you would like to help.

Sheppard-Johnston Nuptials

Carmel United Church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on Saturday, August 22nd, when Dorothy Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston, of Stirling, became the bride of Ross Eric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sheppard, of Codrington.

Dr. A. Packman officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Harry Brown accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Gerald Clancy, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white lace over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, a low neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her finger-tip embroidered veil fell gracefully from a pearl coronet headdress. She carried a nosegay of red Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Rowland Edwards, of Norham, sister of the groom, was matron of honour, gowning in coral nylon with matching picture hat and accessories and carried a nosegay of white 'mums.

Miss Margaret Ellen Edwards was flower girl and Master Jim Sheppard, ring bearer.

Mr. Harold Johnston, of Stirling, acted as groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Don Walker and Mr. Art Bertrand, both of Campbellford.

The reception was held in the Carmel Church Hall with Mrs. Johnston, assisted by Mrs. Sheppard, receiving the guests.

For travelling the bride chose a two-piece blue knitted suit with black accessories and a corsage of Pink Sweetheart roses.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hius)

FEAR OF THE NEW

Albertans get annoyed when anyone shows fear of natural gas as a fuel. Of course, natural gas is an old story to Albertans, and they simply cannot understand why it should be feared when statistics prove without a doubt that it is one of the safest of fuels.

I lived in Alberta for many years. In those days, gas was so cheap we didn't bother to turn it down in the winter even if the house got too hot — we simply opened the windows instead. In all our years there, I can't remember a fire caused by gas or a death caused by gas. If people committed suicide in our neighbourhood, they did it some other way. One poor chap jumped off the high level bridge; and when they found him, it was noted that he had tied his ankles together so that he would not be able to swim if he changed his mind.

A member of my own family is afraid to fly. My son keeps quoting figures to her to prove that you are safer in an airplane than in many other vehicles, but she refuses to pay any attention.

She is also scared stiff of the ocean, so it seems we'll never get to travel abroad unless somebody builds some mighty long bridges.

Some reasonable fear is a good thing. Natural gas, like any other fuel, must be treated with respect. Electricity, too, presents hazards, as do coal and oil. One should be wary of going for airplane rides with careless pilots or to sea in leaky boats. However, to deny oneself the use of a good fuel, fast transportation or a leisurely ocean voyage through fear is something else again.

What Alberta can do to reassure people about natural gas, I don't know. They can console themselves, I suppose, with the knowledge that some day someone will come up with a brand new fuel, and then the fearful will transfer their fear to it.

Horticultural Society Hints

DIGGING TENDER BULBS

Dig up Gladiolus corms as soon as leaves are yellow; frosts are likely in September. Don't risk injury to corms by waiting until the last minute to dig them. There is no immediate urgency about cleaning them for storage until tops and roots are quite dead.

Dahlias can stay in the ground for several days after the tops are killed by frost, then taking care not to break off tubers, they can be lifted. Allow them to harden indoors for several days before storing in peat moss, vermiculite, shavings or sand in a frost free place.

Compost

Compost covered with a plastic sheet turns into rich, black humus without watering or turning. Just make the heap in the usual way, water it well and cover with the plastic sheet. Seal the edges with earth.

Vegetable Garden

Spade areas cleaned of crops. As soon as possible hoe surface, broadcast rye and rake it in. It will provide some organic matter to improve the soil when turned under next spring.

Corn stalks can serve as winter mulch or for covering tender shrubs. Burn tomato stalks rather than compost them, as they may be diseased. Delay digging root crops for storing until there is danger of severe frost.

Tuberous Begonias

Let plants die down now (touched with frost), so their tubers will mature. Remove tops when they are dead, then store tubers in peat moss, vermiculite or sand in a cool frost-free place until last of February.

Ontario Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary

The Ontario Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary held its first meeting after the summer recess on September 14th, at St. Thomas, Reddendale.

Mrs. M. C. Tillotson presided, as the president, Mrs. W. F. H. Mitchell, is attending the Dominion Woman's Auxiliary Annual Meeting in Victoria, B.C.

The meeting opened with prayer followed by reports from the officers and conveners. It was gratifying to learn that two new branches of the Little Helpers have been formed in Arden and Cardinal, with the possibility of a third in Camden East. The sent time stands at forty-six. St. James' Junior Auxiliary have the distinction of receiving an honourable mention certificate for a beautifully dressed doll, which was entered in the Dominion W.A. competition. Twelve hundred entries were submitted, these entries were later given to Protestant Homes and Missions.

Mrs. G. Spence introduced Miss Rice, Dominion Youth Supervisor. Miss Rice commenced her talk by telling of her recent journey to Japan, and of the big part the W.A. can and does play in a foreign land. Her main purpose in going to Japan was to attend the conference of Christian Learning where fifty-eight countries were represented, and the World Convention of Christian Education with an attendance of three thousand.

She also visited an Orphanage which the W.A. helps maintain and was both inspired and impressed by the manner in which it was conducted. She later discussed the reasons why the Little total number of branches at the pre-Helpers and Junior Auxiliary should be assisted and encouraged in Canada. If we are to preach Christianity in other lands we must grow up as Christians ourselves. Her talk was most inspirational and gave plenty of food for thought. Mrs. A. R. Treadgold thanked our speaker.

Four new Life Members were announced, namely: Mrs. R. G. Ashcroft, St. James, Kingston; Mrs. R. J. Orwell, St. James, Kingston; Mrs. Ira Pounder, Trenton; Mrs. Truman E. Adams, Oxford Mills.

Bishop Evans closed the meeting with prayer. The lady members of St. Thomas' graciously served refreshments and were thanked by Mrs. M. C. Tillotson for their hospitality.

MONEY IN POCKET

Canada's electrical manufacturing industry now pays more than $321,000,000 annually in wages.

"I can't recall needing a telephone repair in 52 years!"

SAYS DR. NEIL SMITH,
D.D.S., OF CHATHAM, ONT.

Dr. Smith, a graduate in dental surgery of the University of Toronto, was Commanding Officer of the Chatham Regiment in World War I and has represented Canada in shooting competitions at Buley.

"Since 1906, I've had different phones as they developed better and better ones — and not once do I remember calling a repairman!"

Many other long-time users have to think hard to remember when they last had to have their telephone fixed.

When you stop to consider the pleasure and convenience you enjoy with never an extra repair expense, you may well agree that the value you get for your telephone dollar is truly unique.

St. Paul's W.M.S.

The September meeting of St.

Paul's W.M.A. of the W.M.S., was held in the upper Sunday School room on the third Tuesday of the month.

The open Bible with a Chinese book mark at First Corinthians, 3, was placed on the table in front of an arrangement of vines, berries and yellow flowers in a basket with an African design of palm trees and little black boys and girls. A beautiful bouquet of roses was placed in the window. Mrs. R. Stapley played quiet music as the members gathered.

The President, Mrs. A. Packman, opened the meeting with a poem, followed by prayer. A minute of silence was observed in memory of the late

Mrs. C. Wright.

Mrs. L. Pollock gave as the theme of the worship service, "Fellow Workers with God." As this was the first meeting of the literature year, a simple plan of preparation for worship was outlined, both for the meeting and for the individual.

The call to worship, "Draw near to God and He will draw near to you,"

was followed by the hymn, "Lord of all Being."

Mrs. Chisholm read the Scripture from the third chapter of First Corinthians. Meditation followed. The
